WE NOMINATE

Frank Lewin, one of the talented composers of his time, whose splendid and moving Requiem Mass in English in memory of Robert F. Kennedy will bring Town and Gown together the evening of Tuesday, May 27th, in the Princeton University Chapel to observe the first anniversary of the senseless slaying of the brilliant and beloved Junior Senator from the State of New York, Open to the public, and looked upon by its sponsors as a "truly ecumenical and inter-denominational occasion," this special event accentuates how deeply the Princeton Community, and the world around it, feel about the "restive static of afflatus" and the challenges of violence and counter-violence in "a universe apparently gone awry."

A short year ago the 41-year old Lewin, who is not a Catholic, was — together with several thousand other Princetonians — on the platform at Princeton Junction when Robert Kennedy's funeral train rolled slowly through. He was so moved by this experience that he started work on the Requiem Mass which a fortnight hence will be sung by the 70-voice Princeton High School Choir with the choir of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church leading the congregational "response." Participating clergymen will include Ernest Gordon, Dean of the University Chapel, and the Reverend Christopher Reilly, Director of the sponsoring Aquinas Institute, serving Catholic students at Princeton.

A native of Breslau, Germany, and the father of three daughters, Lewin, who came to this country at age 15, has been writing music for films, theater, television and concert performances for the past two decades. He cites one theme which he feels holds his work together — that is, working "in media where music is needed and used." This has meant scores for the theater ranging from Shakespeare to Tennessee Williams, music for films like the Academy Award-winning documentary, "A Year Towards Tomorrow," and his cantata for voices and instruments, "Music for The White House."

After graduating from high school in New Rochelle, N.Y., he began his formal musical education at the New York College of Music in Manhattan and continued his studies at the Brooklyn Conservatory of Music, Southern Methodist University, Utah and the Yale University School of Music. Side by side with music for the mass media, he wrote excellent works for concert performance. They included the song cycle, "Innocence and Experience," a work commissioned by The Friends of Music at Yale; a work for orchestra, "Evocation," commissioned by the Princeton Symphony Orchestra and first performed here on March 27, 1961.

Lewin reports that he wrote the Kennedy Mass with a view "that this would be used not only for this occasion, I would hope this would be a living thing — a continuing thing." He notes that some segments of the music, such as the Lord's Prayer, can be sung outside the context of a Requiem Mass. When he first talked with members of the High School Choir, he stressed: "You are singing in English, in words you speak every day. So when you sing, think of what they actually mean. The music is meant to help you communicate this meaning to your listeners."

For understanding that writing music for the voice is writing for "the highest instrument;" for endowing Princeton, a year later, with a sense of its debt to a most articulate spokesman for the things in which it believes; for sensing that this is a community not divided; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

PLANNING LAW DRAWN

But May Be Delayed A Jolt Through - Township planning board's meeting has been prepared, but there will probably be some joint Borough-Township discussion before it's actually introduced in either municipality.

The proposal calls for a 14-member board consisting of seven members each from Borough and Township, including three members of the executive committee from Borough Council, one from Township Committee, and five citizen members from each Princeton.

Township Mayor John D. Wallace said at the Planning Board meeting Monday night that he wants to be sure Township Administrator John R. Nini is on the committee. The board agreed, and decided Mr. Nini would be named as a citizen member.

Although Mayor Wallace said the Township might introduce the ordinance next Monday, Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson told his press conference this week that Borough Council wanted to hold up introduction of the ordinance so that Borough and Township representatives could talk about it some more.

Gordon Griffin, attorney for both municipalities, has received suggestions regarding the ordinance from the state's planning section; however, the chief topic of discussion will probably be a financing formula for the joint board.

Present plans call for sharing costs on a 50-50 basis. But as soon as the ordinance is passed, projects are financed on the newables formula. This means the Township would pay 66% and the Borough, 34%.

If the new board is financed on that 66-34 basis, some officials are said to feel that representation on the board should be changed to reflect that proportion. In short, how the Township would be expected to pay two-thirds of the cost with only half the representation.

The major expense is expected to be the fees paid to a joint planning consultant.

The ordinance was drawn by Mr. Griffin in consultation with Norman Williams of the Princeton Planning Board, and Hans K. Sander, chairman of the Township Planning Board.

ROW, ROW, ROW . . . (But in Flood Water?) It's hard for a crew to keep in shape when the shells are locked up by Lake Carnegie.

So Princeton University wants to build a $400,000 floating tank building, west of the present boat house on the site of Lake Carnegie, near Washington Road, and connected to it by a footbridge.

Table 1 is the building which is to be "flood hazard" area of the flood plain. Princeton Township has an ordinance governing construction in that area, and the university appeared Tuesday night before the Planning Board to explore ways of keeping its feet dry.

The proposed two-story building is 45 feet wider than the original, and is located in the "flood hazard" area, C. Harrison Hill, for the University, said it would be impossible to build the new tank on top of the boat house, because of the flood plain, because there are too many steep rocks.

Stay Away From My Dock The new tank would be on the second floor and the machinery to manipulate the water, on the first floor. Diesel engines — 400 h.p. world wide provide the power. Mr. McCall said.

Asked about flood waters in the boat house during heavy rains, Crew Coach Peter Sparhawk said, "The water has come up to the door, but never inside."

Engineer Frank Quinby warned that, in future years, rising water would be heavier as nearby areas in the Stony Brook flood plain are built up.

Could the building be raised? Mr. Sparhawk said he wanted the bridge to be level with the boat house, but Hans K. Sander, chairman of the board, suggested that it wouldn't do any harm to pitch the bridge up a little.

Under state and local laws, the Planning Board must make a decision about any

OUR OWN THING: These dancers from the Princeton Regional Ballet will perform in the ballet "Your Own Thing" at the 10th Annual Northeast Regional Festival this weekend in Pennsylvania. flood plain building, and send with this at all."

Its recommendations to the state's water policy people, said attorney Kester Piersson, Mr. Piersson said, he wanted more facts, particularly about the value of other buildings on the plot, and the case was laid over until a special hearing meeting on Wednesday, May 21. It will be held in the Township Hall annex.

Clovers? — The Planning Board is going to have to make a decision — is conservation of open space the most important thing in cluster zoning or not?

Mr. Sander asked the question after Timothy Sheehan rolled out a pair of plans for the cluster development of land he owns north of Stuart Road and west of Cherry Hill.

Mr. Sheehan's own plan has 38 houses in three clusters. The Open Space Commission's plan has 30 houses in one cluster, not on the main open space at one end of the property. "All this is wet, low, rocky land and it should keep in bed," stated Thomas P. Cook, who is the lawyer for Open Space.

Mr. Sheehan protested that the Open Space plan had no access to the property on the main "collector" street whereas almost all houses, in his plan, faced away from it. The plans will be discussed again on May 21.

William Augustine wants to develop the long, narrow Raymond H. Carter property that runs along White Pine-Kingston Road near Locust Lane. Both Mr. Augustine and the Planning Board want to provide access to the development by opening up the property that is White Pine Lane, and making White Pine "through."

Edward McCall and L. J. Hackenberger, who live on White Pine, neither sell any of the land nor grant the necessary easements. Mayor John D. Wallace told other members of the Planning Board that Township Committee would never condemn land under such circumstances.

So the board reluctantly decided to make access to the property available through the Princeton-Kingston Road. This means Mr. McCall — but not Mr. Hackenberger — will have a road along the entire White Pine boundary of his property. But White Pine Lane will not go through.

A new public hearing must be held after the revised plan has been drawn and submitted.

M.D. At Home Doctors and residences have lived in Princeton since the days of North Harrison. But the Planning Board is adamantly against plans presented by two Kendall Park physicians to build an addition to the 1911 North Harrison. The site plan board had made several suggestions, but the planners said "no."

"This is the first doctor's office in that area that would look like an office building," declared William Suplin, of the board. Mayor Wallace said the plan "are in conflict with the spirit of the use variance granted these two doctors. I am not happy 'no'."

The vote was 42 to 43, with Mr. Sutphen, T. Burnett Fisher and Mr. Sander voting against. Mr. Stabler said he wanted to make sure that he probably won't be a candidate again, but he wanted a build-up for him anyway so he could get elected.

Salvatore T. Telesco can subdivide his property on Valley and Ewing to make two lots, but he will have to build a sidewalk along Ewing. The street is regarded as "an ordinary approach" to John Witherspoon School. Mr. Fish voted against subdividing. Mr. Telesco wants to build the sidewalk because he felt it was unfair to require that walk of only one property owner, while the other properties project streets more than he would think. Mr. Quinby told the board that it cost $700 to patch 1,000 feet of streets, $36 to patch up curbed streets, $36 to lay asphalt. He recommends eventual curbing of all roads on both sides.

THEFT REPORT

From VW to Golf Clubs. Report of thefts last week listed from a Volkswagen raged from a Volkswagen to a set of golf clubs.

The white VW was taken from the upper parking lot at theologic Apartments he between 6 Thursday evening and Saturday morning, according to owner Joel C. Hosca. Valued at $360, the set of golf clubs was owned by Nicholas Vassilakis, 16, of Elm Place. He told police the clubs had stolen from the rear of his station wagon that had been parked in his driveway.

Two women lost wallets. Mrs. Grace Woodhull, 86 Tay for Terrace, Hopewell, an employee of the law firm of Smith, Spangler & Webster, One Palmer Square, told police she left her wallet in her desk overnight and when she returned the next morning it was gone. She had lost between $9 and $25, police said.

Mrs. E. D. Dribben, 22 Ced ar Lane, had her wallet stolen from her purse while she left on a bench while playing tennis Sunday at the Community Park Courts. She lost $7. The theft took place between 1 and 6 p.m.

On Sunday, $30 was stolen from the tennis shack at the Community Park Courts. Mike Johnson, a Princeton High School student employed by the Recreation Department, told police that he had left the shack locked and gone for a cold. When he returned, he opened the door and found was open and the money gone.

Police said there was no sign of forced entry. Also taken were some tennis rackets.

Willard Jones, a houseman at the Princeton Inn, reported losing $170 last week while he was asleep in his room at the Princeton Inn dormitory. The victim said he had had gone to sleep about 11:30 with the money in his trousers lying at the foot of his bed. He awoke about two hours later and noted the trousers missing. The wallet was later found under a bed in the room next door.

Princeton police questioned suspect later but released him. P.D. David Potts investigated.

Tumbleweed Stolen. A recordable still packed in its shipping carton and valued at $60 was stolen between 8:30 Sunday evening and the next morning from the front entrance of Trinity Church, P.D. Timothy Blazier, the investigating officer, reported that a window on the north side of the church, and had been broken to gain entry. Church youth who had William Knight reported the theft.

A $25 pair of tin cutters and a $10 radio were stolen from a car and box last week from a hardware construction site on the Westminster Chair College campus.

early Sunday morning from a display window at the Kalmus Jewelry Store, 56 Chambers Street.

Police said a window to the left of the entrance was broken by an object shot after 4 in the morning. Borrough police shortly picked up two suspects but released them without question.

Owner Henry Kalmus, who was called by police, was unable to place a value on the missing rings.

The off-centered Youth Center on the corner of Witherspoon and Green Streets was entered again during the week. This time $100 was stolen.

Mr. Telesco wants to build the sidewalk because he felt it was unfair to require that walk of only one property owner, while the other properties project streets more than he would think. Mr. Quinby told the board that it cost $700 to patch 1,000 feet of streets, $36 to patch up curbed streets, $36 to lay asphalt. He recommends eventual curbing of all roads on both sides.

Owner Leland Birch said he would take inventory and wait

Upon the ground.

Temperature in the low 40s in May? They've been common of late, and even in the afternoon, readings haven't moved much beyond the low 60s.

A somewhat milder trend is in store, as the turbulent air that has been pouring down from Canada moves out to sea, creating sheltered bays and possibly, the Man reports, but nothing really disruptive for recreational planning.

By the police if anything was missing. The incident happened over the weekend.

Bus Office Entered. In the Township, the office of the New Jersey Bus Line, 285 John Street was entered and $90 stolen.

Driver Edward Delsky noticed a hole in a front door panes of glass as he arrived for work on Saturday morning.

Apparently the thief tried to enter the front door, police said, but failing this, threw a large rock through another window under which he had placed a battery to help his entry.

Two desks in the office were ransacked and a corner cabinet was broken. Sixty dollars in the cash register was taken from a pull-out drawer in the cabinet.

Pull. Frank Boccanfuso and P.D. Al Funk investigated.

The postal annex at the foot of Nassau Place was entered between Thursday and Friday.

Employee James J. Davidson, who first noticed the entry, said that pieces of mail had been dumped on the floor and a combination safe secured. Police and postal authorities are checking the possible theft of checks from the mail. A door on the northwest end of the building was apparently "slipped" by a binder instrument to provide easy exit. Exit was through the same door, police said.

CHAUNCEY TO RETIRE

From ETS Next Year. Henry Chauncey, president of Educational Testing Service since its founding in 1947, will retire on June 30, 1970. He will be succeeded at that time by William W. Turnbull, present executive vice-president, who was elected president-elect last week by ETS's board of trustees.

The ETS trustees paid tribute to Dr. Chauncey for his leadership of the organization over the past 21 years, noting the demonstrated executive capacity and brilliance of intellect of Dr. Turnbull who has also been with ETS since its founding. After his retirement, Dr. Chauncey, who will be 65 next February, will continue to serve ETS as Advisor to the Corporation.

Born in Canada, Dr. Turnbull, 49, graduated from the University of Western Ontario, and received a Ph.D. in psychology in 1944 from Princeton.

William W. Turnbull

Upon completion of his graduate work, he joined the staff of the College Entrance Examination Board, one of the organizations that later founded ETS.

At the formation of ETS, Dr. Turnbull became the organization's first Director of Test Construction, Analysis and Research, and was president of ETS in 1949, was appointed executive vice-president in 1956.

He is a member of the American Psychological Association, American Educational Research Association, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Dr. Turnbull is a former director of the International Schools Services and has served on the Board of Governors of the National Council on Measurement in Education and the Advisory Council of the Department of Psychology at Princeton University.

Dr. Turnbull and his wife, the former Mary Sinclair, have three children, 18, 16, and 13, and live in Princeton with a daughter, Brenda, who is a freshman at Radcliffe. He is a trustee for The Princeton Youth Fund Board and Friends of Public Education in Princeton.

MAN FACES HEARING
On Gun Charges. The manager of a Witherspoon Street store has been charged by Borough police with a pair of firearm violations.

Released in $3,000 bail to await a preliminary hearing before Borough Commissioner James Jr., Alexander Lukacs of Yardville, Mr. Lukacs is manager of the Country Farm Store, 203 Witherspoon Street.

He was arrested last week by Detective Charles E. Harris of the Borough police and William E. Keating of the New Jersey State Police Department. Toms Jr. is Alexander Lukacs of Yardville, Mr. Lukacs is manager of the Country Farm Store, 203 Witherspoon Street.

Earlier this spring, the Country Farm Store was entered and a number of shotguns, pistols and antique guns were stolen.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED
In Shoplifting Charge. In Borough Court Monday, William Parker Jr., of Trenton, an employee at the Nassau Inn, was sentenced to 20 days in the Mercer County Workhouse by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. For shoplifting $2.50 worth of pants from Bill's Men's Shop, 30 Witherspoon Street.

Judge Tams then suspended the sentence but ordered Parker to pay a $10 court cost. William F. Total, owner of the men's shop, was the complainant.

In traffic court, Robert J. Alpert, 48, 363 Prospect Avenue, and Margaret Zicha, 45, Millstone Apartments, were each fined $12 for stop sign violations. Dan Kepton, 271 Edgewater Road, was fined $4 for speeding.

Paying fines of $15 each were Joseph E. Cox, 20 Prospect Avenue, caught carelessly driving, and Ralph C. Lewis, 18, 43 Dawes Avenue, no license in possession. Failure to notify the motor vehicle department of a change of address cost Donald W. Calhoun, 17, of Skillman, $10.

In criminal court, William Princenold, 24, 332 Pyne Hall, Princeton University, was fined a total of $92 on two offenses. He was charged with using loud and offensive language and interfering with and molesting passing motorists on Washington Road during university weekend.

Two college students from outside the Princeton area were fined $10. Fredrick E. Fyke, 19, of Westwood, and Richard J. Egan Jr., 19, of Oradell, were each fined $10 for larceny. They had been charged with stealing clothing during the annual week-end from Princeton University students.

George E. McGowan, 11, 224 John Street, was sentenced to 35 days in the County Workhouse in default of a fine. He had been charged by Detective Robert F. McAvanea with stealing a check and an ID card in a campus dormitory.

William Fowler, 31, 256 John Street, was fined $35 for assaulting his wife with the complainant. Using loud and offensive language on University Place cost Mrs. Ann Ryan, 135 Bayard Lane, $35.

11 Fined in Township. Eleven persons were fined by Judge Burton Peskin in Township Court last week: nine for traffic violations, and two for speed. Cynthia A. Slaboda, 25, of Cranbury, $25; Russell E. Schuss, 18, of Kingston, $18; Bruce L. Smith, 65, Moore Mill Mount, $10; and Hopewell $23. In addition, Mr. Smith's license was revoked for 30 days.

Three were fined for careless driving: Karen E. Hoffman, Orchard Lane, Lawrenceville, $20; Harold E. Werner, 20, 123 Pyne Hall, Princeton University, $25; and Harold J. Grimes, 26, Hollow Road, Skillman, $20.

Driving with license plates not his own, cost Joel A. Thompson, 17, 611 Lake Drive, $6; Frederick C. Cook, 22, 49 Wiggins Street, paid $20 as an unlicensed driver, and Sara F. Morey, 20, 210 Mountain Avenue, paid $10 for a late inspection violation.

Two paid fines of $10 each for allowing their dogs to run loose on school property. They are James M. Jones, 19, of Spruce Street, and Wilson J. Espinoza, 196 John Street.

SEWER REQUIRED

Borough Motel to be built. A 150-room motel plus a 1,500-capacity restaurant are still on the agenda for construction in Montgomery Township by Fox Hollow Construction Co., Inc., of Marlboro.

Princeton University announced its plans to remove the Princeton Inn from the Princeton scene as a hotel and replace it with a eight-story, municipal officials began counting up the hotels that were left, and decided — erroneously, as it turned out, — that the Montgomery Township motel project had been dropped.

However, Jack Trombadorre, president of Fox Hollow, says that both motel and restaurant are alive and well, and awaiting only a municipal sewer system in Montgomery.

Zoning officials in Montgomery granted Fox Hollow a variance in 1968, but they said the motel would have to wait until it could be tied into a municipal sewer. Plans for a regional sewer in the area are continuing ahead, but the sewer is still somewhat in the future. Meanwhile, Fox Hollow obtains yearly extensions of its variance.

The motel restaurant will be built on seven acres tract on Route 206, adjoining Princeton Airport on the south.

Highlighting the fair will be

WEST WINDSOR PTA FAIR: Mrs. Eugene Polarolo, Mrs. Theodore Linn and Mrs. Newton Godnick prepare decorations of giant fruits and vegetables to display booths for the West Windsor PTA Fair, planned for this Saturday from 11 to 4 at the Maurice Hawk School.

Local Girls Make Good

Three Princeton girls have been admitted to the freshman class at — guess where? Right, Princeton University.

And Michael Ann Turner, 80 Linden Lane, didn't necessarily have an inside track just because she works in that university's admissions office.

Miss Turner was a member of the class of '64 at Princeton High, but did not graduate because of illness. She got her high school diploma through the state's equivalency program in January of 1966, spent two and one-half years in fitness courses at Rider College, went to work for the University and only decided in January to go to college. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Turner, 564 Mercer.

Sherry Lynn Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Brooks, Princeton Line Road, was admitted to Princeton but has decided to accept the offer from Jackson College, Tufts University instead. She is also admitted to Goddard.

Katherine Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Myers, 10 Rollinghead, senior in the Short Country Day. Admission to Princeton for her, fulfills a "lifelong ambition," she says. Miss Myers was a National Merit finalist.

Mr. Robert A. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Davlin, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Farley, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Good, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Moore.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Irving B. Kingsford, Mr. and Mrs. John Kusner, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawson-Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. James M. and Mrs. Herbert Rubin, Mr. and Mrs. William Webster and Mr. and Mrs. Hibben Zeising.

AT GOLDEN GALAXY BALL, Stan Rubin will provide the music for dancing at the Golden Galaxy Ball, from 7:30 a.m. Friday, June 13.

Dinner will be served at 8:30 p.m. at the Ball, a prelude to the Regional Festival on Saturday, June 14. Windsor Field, Washington Road.

Door prizes donated by community residents will include two tickets to the Metropolitan Opera, a secretary for a day by American Girl Service, five movie tickets, a typewriter and many more.

Entertainment for the evening will also feature the Witherspooners, a singing group. The costume for the Ball is "black tie with zing."

The Dinner-Dance Committee members are: Mr. and Mrs. Morton Lucas, a member of the Board of Directors of the Princeton Ballet School.

"Since the ballet was created for young people," says Mrs. Lucas, "we have used jazz movement, and the music of Jefferson Airplane and Paul Simon."

BUSINESS In Princeton

One of Princeton's oldest and largest business firms has packed its main office away from traffic-clogged Nassau Street and moved it out to State Road.

Stockholders of Princeton Bank & Trust, in a special meeting held last Thursday, voted by a wide majority to transfer the bank's corporate offices from 76 Nassau to the new building, the bank now leases at 842 State Road. The announcement was made immediately after the meeting by William E. Cosby, president.

On July 1, when state's new banking law goes into effect, Princeton Bank & Trust hopes to move back into its former premises in the Princeton Station. Some time later, however, which would give the bank four Princeton locations, plus one in Holmdel, is expected to be approved by state W. Byrne. The 76 Nassau per-banking officials, Mr. Cosby said.

PB&T will continue to hold the triangle of land that straddles the Montgomery-Princeton Township line. The parcel borders Nassau, Lucy, Cherry Hill and State Roads. Mr. Cosby said the bank might build a supply-storage building there.

Mr. Cosby said, in announcing the move, that the bank needed a place with easy and adequate parking.

"Many of our customers who want personal discussions with us are inclined to drive to the bank," Mr. Cosby explained, "so a location with adequate parking is vital."

There are 88 parking spaces plus two drive-up windows, at the State Road building.

Personal loan headquarters will be on State Road, under Assistant vice-president John personal loan department will be on State Road, and so will office on State Road and so will Senior Vice-president C. Barnwell Straus, Malcolm G. Magner, and Robert L. Hirsch in charge of all bank loan operations, will be in the 206 office. All accounting, bookkeeping and auditing operations will be handled in the State Road building and Computer Director V. Ross' office will be there also.

About 50 bank employees will be assigned to the new building, Mr. Cosby said. The building, plenty of room for more, as needed) and as tellers at the six indoor windows, as well as in other bank departments on State Road.

The new building has 12,000 square feet of space, compared to about 14,000 sq. ft. at 76 Nassau. Space released at 76 Nassau will be used by executives of the bank's trust department, and various other operations. Joseph F. Catelli, vice-president and treasurer, will be in charge of the 76 Nassau Street staff, assisted by H. Phillips Austin, assistant vice-president.

Mr. Cosby also announced that Miss Louise German has been appointed marketing officer, with offices at 76 Nassau. Edwin F. Lowe has been transferred from the Hopewell office, where he was manager, to a new sales facility manager there. Clifford Robbins will succeed him at Hopewell.

PB&T's president emphasized that the bank's move does not reflect any lack of Nassau Street, but was rather an expression of confidence in the growth of the Princeton area.

"We have confidence in the future of Princeton and the state of New Jersey in our lifetime, and we want to play a constructive part in these inevitable changes," he stated. Mr. Cosby completed his bank's acquisition of a $75 million bank, to its position seven years ago — when Mr. Cosby came to PB&T — as a bank worth $40 million. In 1953, when Mr. Cosby joined PB&T, preceded Mr. Cosby as president, joined PB&T as president, was worth $4 million, Mr. Cosby said.

ADR ACQUIRES FIRM

In Computer Field, Applied Data Research, Inc., Route 206, Montgomery Township, a computer software and services company, has reached an agreement in principle to acquire Programmatic, Inc., for an undisclosed amount of money. The transaction, which is to be completed in early June, will be made jointly by Richard C. Jones, Applied Data Research president, and David E. Ferguson, Programmatic president.

Programmatic, a privately owned company, was founded in 1963 and has its executive offices in Los Angeles and a branch office in Reston, Virginia to serve the Washington, D.C., computer community. A systems programming firm, Programmatic primarily serves non-governmental computer users.

In announcing the acquisition, Mr. Jones said that Programmatic would be merged physically into ADR and that Mr. Ferguson would become vice-president.

Mr. Jones also said that

Programmatic will increase the Applied Data Research team's capacity for developing proprietary soft ware programs used in sys tems programming.

In addition to strengthening

Applied Data Research's

technical capability in sys tems programming on the West Coast, the acquisition

brings together two companies that share technical and pro fessional concern for produc

tions, systems development and separate pricing of hard ware and software.

It is the second acquisition

made by ADR in its ten year history. In 1967, the company

acquired Massachusetts Com

puter Associates, Inc., Wake

BANKS TO MERGE

Franklin and Scotch Plains. The boards of directors of the Franklin State Bank in Somerville and The First National Bank of Scotch Plains have announced merged plans.

Chartered in 1863, the Franklin State Bank has resources of approximately $16 million. It has three branch offices, one located on Route 27, north of Kingston. A fourth is planned to open in September.

The First National of Scotch Plains has assets of about $17 million. Chartered in 1964, it maintains a branch office in a second location in Scotch Plains.

The merged banks would retain the name of Franklin State Bank with the Scotch Plains offices operating as the Scotch Plains' Union County Division. The agreement requires the approval of the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance and the shareholders of both banks.

days next week, after pleading "not guilty" to charges of selling liquor to a minor.

Borough Council and Mayor Henry C. Patterson imposed a 12-day sentence after hearing Monday night, but reduced it to six business days plus Sunday because the judge said he did not contest the charge.

According to Robert McCarthy, owner of the Pink Elephant, the minor presented himself at the bar and claimed he was over 21, and had the appearance of a 21-year-old.

Mayor Patterson explained that the Borough is tougher on liquor stores than some communities because the townie doesn't want the state's Alcoholic Beverage Control to move in and begin its own enforcement.

This has happened in towns where bars are lax and stores are consistent violators, the mayor said.

To Meet at Riverside

A special meeting of the Princeton School P.T.O. will be held this Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in the all-purpose room of the school.

Superintendent Philip E. McPherson and members of the Board of Education will be present. The meeting with Dr. McPherson and the board was requested some weeks ago so that Riverside parents could discuss with school officials the resignation of Mrs. Alice Packard as principal.

SCHULER TO SPEAK

A Member for Consumers. All interested consumers are invited to a noon partisan public meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 22, at Community Park School to discuss new consumer legislation recently introduced in the New Jersey State Legislature.

Assembleyman William E. Schuler will outline the importance of organized consumer participation in the legislative process to protect consumer interests adequately. Those at the meeting will be invited to express consumer opinions and offer suggestions for solving such problems. Refreshments will be served.

Among the new laws to be discussed are Assembly Bills 373 and 374 which together disarm a long-standing consumer booby trap whereby people have been forced to pay more for merchandise and services which they may never have received. Other proposed new laws to be discussed and acted upon at the meeting include some which purport to prevent consumer fraud, but which will have the effect of making life even more difficult and expensive for the consumer than it is now, according to Joseph M. Boyd, President of Princeton's non-profit Consumer Bureau, Inc., sponsors of the meeting.

In preparation for the meeting, according to Mr. Boyd, the Princeton chapter of Consumer Bureau has reviewed a number of the proposed new laws and will present its recommendations for consumer support of, or opposition to, each such proposed new law. Consumer Bureau's Public Policy Committee Members include Mr. Boyd, George Fremont, Mrs. Hazel Herman, 6 Grant Street; Mrs. Ann Ryan, 135 Bayard Lane; Mrs. William Sulphur, 6 Laurel Road; Princeton Municipal Auditorium, John Street; Alan Wallach, 238 Moore Street, Princeton; and Allen Wiseman, 1 Poor Farm Road, Pennington.

At the conclusion of the meeting, there will be a question and answer period, an open discussion period and a short business meeting of Members of Consumer Bureau, Inc.

In announcing the meeting, Mr. Boyd emphasized the non-partisan character of Consumer Bureau and said that he hopes to have speakers of both political parties at future consumer meetings sponsored by the Bureau.

The Family Service Agency maintains its Princeton office at 120 John Street. A branch is located at 160 Stockton Street, Hightstown.

Other new officers will be Mrs. Richard Wilhelm, president; Mrs. Martha Lou Stover, first secretary; and Samuel W. Ladd, III, treasurer. —Continued On Page II

Students! Let's Paint That Fence!

Graffiti is fun but art is more fun and besides you might get a free prize!

This Saturday, starting at 9:30, a "Paint-In" will be held on the fence around the University's Firestone Library construction site. (Rain date: Sunday).

Who can paint? Anybody from 10 years old through graduate school. Sections of the fence will be numbered off, and assigned to contestants. Princeton's middle and upper school students will be divided into 10-11 and 14-18 age groups, and undergraduates and graduate students from the University are invited to paint, too. Sign in Saturday at the driveway across Nassau Street from Worcester's.

The University and the Arts Council of Princeton will provide the paint. Bring your own brushes and paint cans.

The decorations on the fence at the moment consist of what the Arts Council calls "informal graffiti." "Paint-in" sponsors hope for a riot of color and creativity, but the riot of color will depend on whether the University provides bright or muted paint colors.

It was the University's Undergraduate Assembly that conceived the "Paint-In" idea. Three undergraduates, working with Leslie Vivian of the Office of University Relations, will run the contest, along with Mrs. Neal O'Connor and Gordon Andrews of the Arts Council.

Prizes will be scholarships to classes given by the Princeton Art Association.

Topics Of The Town

Henry S. Broad, retiring president, will serve on year on the board of directors. Other directors elected for three year terms, are:
Dr. J. Anthony Dede, Rabbi Norbert Klemperer, Mrs. Peter Putnam, Mrs. William Huckabee, the Rev. Nicholas B. Van Dyke, James J. Affleck, Mrs. Albridge, C. Smith III, Mrs. Robert O'Neill and Dr. Shirley Van Ferrey.

MEMBERS ELECTED

For Arts Council, Rev. George E. Morris, Mrs. Charles L. Jaffin and Michael Leech were elected to the Board of Trustees of the Arts Council of Princeton at its annual meeting last week.

The officers of the Board are: William K. Selden, president; Jeremiah Ford, vice-president; Alan S. Downer, secretary; and Robert Dilley, treasurer.

The current Board members include Gordon Andrews, Rev. William Beevers, Mrs. Nathan Burman, Dr. George Darrow, Miss Arthur Ponting, John Hamel, James Litton, Arthur Lithgow, David Mackay, Mrs. Neal O'Connor and Mrs. Frank Schieffelin.

During the past year, the Arts Council undertook a study for new space to house different art groups in Princeton and established itself as liaison for awards from the New Jersey Council on the Arts to the Princeton Chamber Orchestra and the New School for Music Study.

The group also cooperated with the New Jersey Department of Education, the New Jersey State Arts Museum and the McCarter Theatre for a Creative Arts Festival in May, 1970.

DEADLINE NEARS
For Arts Calendar, The next Calendar of Events to be issued by the Arts Council. An issue of TOWN TOPICS will cover information on activities in the arts for the next three months, and will be entitled "Summer Calendar of Events." All information included must be submitted to Michael Leech at McCarter Theatre by Wednesday, May 21.

CLYSTON, 10, STRUCK
At Clyston and Lovers Lane, John Lilliland, 10, of 138 Willow Road, was struck Saturday morning at the intersection of Clyston Street and Lovers Lane. He was treated for consciousness of the left leg and released from Princeton Hospital.

Both the driver, Frank R. Martin, 48, of Trenton, and a witness reported that the truck turned directly in front of the Bartis car. Ptl. Timothy Huizing made no charges.

CAR HIT POLE A car was adjudged a total loss by Township police after it skidded out of control on Route 206 Friday and struck a pole 150 feet south of Cherry Valley Road. It was at approximately 5:30 p.m.

The driver, Harry L. Parker, 42, of Somerville received minor shots at Princeton Hospital for treatment of a puncture wound on the back of his right hand.

He told police that he was driving home when his car started to fishtail and he lost control. It went off the shoulder of the road and damaged the lawn in front of Perseverance before striking the post.

Ptl. Michael Kopiner reported that it is possible that the car's left rear tire may have blown out prior to the start of the skid. He made no charges.

In an accident in Lawrence Township at 7 Monday morning, a Princeton resident, who claims his car ran off Route 1 and struck a pole. Herbert Broadway, 47, 100 Leigh Avenue, was taken to Princeton Hospital by the Law-

Township First Aid Service. He was treated for carelessness driving by Ptl. Herbert Baanister.

TWO CONCERTS PLANNED
By Middle School Students. Student musicians and chorale groups from the Princeton Regional Middle School will present two concerts this month at John Witherspoon Auditorium.

The Wind Ensemble and Sixth Grade Chorus will perform on May 21. The Chamber Orchestra and Middle School Choir will appear at 8 p.m. May 26. All parents are invited to attend.

Before the May 21 concert, the Regional Middle School P. T. O. will hold a brief business meeting and elect new officers.

The new state of officers includes: Mrs. Philip Cruckshank, president; Mr. Albert Fink, first vice-president; Mrs. Rita Thompson, vice-president; Mrs. Thomas Turner, Jr., recording secretary. Also, Mrs. Frederick Blum, corresponding secretary; Mr. John Keigler, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Bolster, Mrs. E. F. Laschever, and Mrs. Robert Woodside, elected members of the 1970 Nominating Committee. Additional nominations may be made from the floor.

AUCTION PLANNED
By Scout Troop. Boy Scout Troop 81 of Kingston will hold its annual auction at 10 a.m. Saturday, on the grounds of the Kingston Presbyterian Church.

As an added attraction this year, the scouts will make an appearance on the church grounds, allowing community residents to observe the Troop in action.

Anyone wishing to contribute articles to the auction should contact Earl Mertz Jr., at 924-1797.

SCHOLARSHIP GIVEN
To West Windsor State. The West Windsor PTA's $1,000 Frank J. Walton Scholarship has been awarded to Jane Fuljen, a Princeton High School senior who plans to attend the Parsons School of Design.

Also, the Walter F. Wadsworth Foundation of Princeton High who will attend Brown University, and Elizabeth Ann Van Doren, who will attend Douglass College next fall.

FRENCH WINS ANOTHER
Rutgers Blanked, 3-0. Mike
French, the highly-talented Princeton pitcher who lost his first two games this spring,
won his fourth in a row Tuesday as he shut Rutgers out on Clarke Field, 3 to 0. It was the Tiger baseball team's first victory in the last eight meetings.

The senior righthander pitched his way out of a bases-loaded situation in the first,
and the visitors never threatened to score thereafter. He struck out eight, and when he wanted to nail down the triumph in the final inning, did so on four pitches.

Catcher Arnie Holzberg got Princeton its first run in the second when he singled to right, advanced on a fielder's choice, took third on a wild pitch, and continued to run when the Rutgers catcher fired the ball into left field. In the fifth, Captain Todd Faulkner homered to right field to score the third run. Ray Hu-ard, who had singled.

The Tigers filled the bases
in the eighth, sophomore Bah-

to bring Faulkner home. The triumph raised the Orange and Black's record to 6-4-1.

PHS ONE-HIT VICTIM
Of Steiert's Jackson. Lee
of Steinert, a Steinert High student, scored the single PHS Tuesday afternoon, as the visitors upped their record to one win, against two losses.
Jackson, who scored the only run in the ninth, hit a three-base hit to score Jeff Grover and Mike Seldner in the last inning. Grover, picked up his fifth win in six starts. It was a 2-0

Princeton Golfer Wins Bad Zachary, Princeton
winner, won the Eastern Intercollegiate Golf championship at Ithaca this week to climax the Tigers' success in the team title (see page 41).

On Saturday, Zachary earned medalist honors with a 36-hole total of 148 over the rugged Cornell course.
In his day, he advanced to the semi-finals with a 5 and 4 triumph over an opponent
from Yale and a 2 and 1 victory over another from Penn State.

Monday saw Zachary battle to the 18th green in both his morning and afternoon
matches, but he won them (over Harvard and Penn State) with excellent scores of 2 up. He succeeds another Princetonian, Mike Porter, who helped the team victory with a score of 161, but was elated
with a round-trip match play.

Catcher Chuck Arnold got the Little Tigers' lone safety with one out in the sixth when he hit a bounder deep in the hole at short. Coach Harry Logan, the team's newest coach for Arnold Logan was cut down trying to steal, however.

The Spartans scored both their runs in the second when they combined three walks and a single. After that, PHS pitcher Jim Hwang settled down and issued one on free pass, the rest of the game. He struck out one and wasouch-ed for five hits.

All through the game, Zoli kept reminding his players
they were only two runs down and still in the game. Actually, PHS never really was. The team just can't hit.

We expect most of our team to have a great year if they keep up their hitting practice," Zoli said. "But if a player can't hit by the time he's in high school, he's never going to be a batter."

TRACKMEN LOSE, 83-43

To Steinert, capturing only three firsts in 14 events, Princeton High School was blasted today by a strong Steinert track team. The score was 83-43, Steinert.

Paul Riddell's win in the high hurdles, Warren Appel's win in the long jump, and Paul Mazzarella's win in the low hurdles were Princeton's lone first places. Team captain Julian Solotrovsky was disabled with a sprained ankle.

PHS did not win a single field event. The closest it came was Lawrence Parker's 157.2 throw in the javelin, one inch shorter than the first-

SWIM SCHOOL TO OPEN
At Sportsmen Club, Princeton University swimming coach Mr. Cloworthy and his wife, Cynthia, will open a swimming school in Princeton from June 16 to August 9.

Classes will be held from 9-11 a.m. Monday through Saturday at the Health
American Sparsmen Club, Tetherine Road. Instruction will be provided for all age groups,
non swimmers through advanced.

The Cloworthys also plan to give introductory lessons in swimming for children for sign to 12 year old swimmers.
Mr. Cloworthy was an Olympic Champion in 1956.

Anyone interested in further information should write to Sportsmen Club, 100 Riverside Road, R.D. No. 2, Belle Meade, or call 201-339-3728

CLASSES START MONDAY

In Competitive Swim. A competitive swimming school, comprised of six separate sessions, will be held again this year
at the Princeton Community Center. Participants are invited of Robert Cloworthy, Princeton University swimming
coach.

The first session consisting of the practices has been moved ahead and will now start Monday,
and run through May 30.

The fee is $6.25.

The competitive swim program is open to all Princeton area residents. Checks for the above class should be made out to the Princeton Recreation Department and mailed to R.
Barry, Recreation Director, Township Hall, Princeton, N.J.

Complete information about the dates and fees of subsequent classes may be obtained by calling the Recreation Office at 291-3321.

The competitive swim program reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office. By the way, our motto, "No other

It comes in three economy sizes.

These are just some of the sizes Volkswagons come in. Regular, large and giant economy size.

Regular, you know. It's the familiar beetle.

Large is our Squareback sedan. It holds more than the largest trunk of the largest sedan.

Giant economy is our big bus-like box. It holds nearly twice as much as the average station wagon.

And all three VWs do everything you expect a VW to do.

They have air-cooled engines in the rear, of course. So there's water to boil over or freeze up. And need for antifreeze.

And they're easy on gasoline. The bug and the Squareback average about 27 miles on a gallon. The box about 23.

So you see, no matter what size we make Volkswagens, they're all economical.

Why not come in and size one up?

MASS IN PREMIERE

By PHS Choir, A Mass for the Dead, composed by the Princeton musician Fred Lewin (See "Man of the Week" column). Robert Kennedy will be given its premiere by the Princeton High School Choir under William R. Tregoe. Tuesday, May 27, at 8 p.m., in the Princeton University Chapel.

One of the movements from the Mass will be part of the program to be given by all the vocal groups of the Princeton High School vocal music department when the department presents its annual Spring Concert next Tuesday.

The concert, open to the public without charge, will be given in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. under Mr. Tregoe. Nancianne Parrella will be accompanist.

Singers in the Freshman Girls Chorus will open the program with di Lasso's "Echo and Dolor," followed by the Benedictus of Ludwig van Beethoven. They will also sing "Ich Jauchze," from Bach's Cantata No. 15, and "Dearest Swallow," by Purcell.

The Male Chorus will sing "Give Ear, O Lord," by Schutz; "Praise We Sing to Thee," by Haydn; "The Wind Blow Over My Shoulder," by Mendelssohn; "O Come, Let Us Adore Him"; "We Fight Not for Glory," from Randall Thompson's "Testament of Freedom." Soloists will be tenor soloist in the first solo.

The first half of the concert will end with a group of songs presented by the Madrigal Club, "I Will Sing," "My Lovely Mother," "Spring Returns," "It est bel et bon," and three Elizabethan part songs — "Sweet Day," "Willow Song" and "O Missus Mine," by R. Vaughan Williams.

After intermission, the High School Girls Chorus will sing "Hark! The Glad Tidings," "Sing Strain," The Chorus' featured work will be Persichetti's Spring Cantata for Women's Chorus. The four movements are "Trees," "If the Green."

"Spring is like a perhaps band" and "In Just-Spring." The Princeton High School Chorus will sing the first movement of the Requiem Opus 9, by the French organist and composer Maurice Duruflé, and then the movement from Mr. Lewin's Mass for the Dead.

WESTMINSTER TO SING
WITH ST. ARTHUR BLISS

The Westminster College will present a concert in McCarter Theatre on Thursday, May 29 at 8:30 p.m., and for the first part of the program, the Westminster Chorus will direct the choir of Sir Arthur Bliss.

Sir Arthur, a composer and conductor, is also Master of the Queen's Musick and he will travel to the United States especially for the concert. He will direct the Westminster Choir in a set of art tunes and dances by Purcell which he has arranged, and also in his own cantata, "Mary of Magdala."

In the second half of the program, Dr. George Lynn, music director of the Westminster Choir, will direct the choir in Bach's "God's Time is the Best."

Concertmaster for the orchestra will be Joseph Kovacs, of the Princeton Symphony, and directs the Princeton Symphony Orchestra.

Sir Arthur's cantata is sung to the words of Christopher Hassall. Soloists will be Diane Curry, as Mary; Ramon Kyser as Christus and Sue Ellen Page and Jacqueline Brandt as angels.

In the Bach, soloists will be Miss Curry, Mr. Kyser and Robert Simpson.

Tickets are available from the McCarter box office.

CONCERT PLANNED

At Witherspoon School, several choirs and instrumental groups will present a public concert at 8 p.m., Wednesday, May 21, in the auditorium of the John Witherspoon School.

The program will feature the Prep Band and Wind Ensemble, directed by Mrs. Virginia Swift, and the Sixth Grade Glee Club and the Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Joachim Parrella.

Solo and small ensemble pieces will be performed by Lauren Sarno, Christopher Negus, Connie Vial, Kathy McGinnis, Jason Scarborough, Cindy Price, Sam Wadsworth, David Cottrell, Eric Laschever, William Alpert and Chris Blumman.

Another musical program, featuring the orchestra and seventh and eighth grade choral groups from the Middle School, will be held on May 26 at the John Witherspoon School.

STUDENTS TO PERFORM
In Princeton Concert, Students of the Princeton University Music Department will perform a program of 20th century chamber music at 8:30 p.m., Friday, in the Woolworth Center of Musical Studies.

The concert, under the auspices of Friends of Music of Princeton, will include music for piano solos by Stravinsky, Schoenberg, and two Swarthmore College faculty members, Claudio Spies and Paul Lansky.

MUSICIANS WELCOME
At Amateurs Society. The Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will hold its last open meeting of the 1968-69 season at 5 p.m., Sunday, in the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road.

The informal program, conducted by Pauline Knapp, will include Schubert's "Mass in E Flat." The soloists will be Mary Kemp, Victoria Hayes, Albert Janssen, John Rubin and Ed Munden Austin.

Any interested person wishing to participate in the reading should contact Mrs. M. E. Gandy.

JOVY TOPICS reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office. By the time you get this issue, other Princeton newspaper does half as well.

"ELIJAH" RECORDED
By Boychoir. A complete recording of Mendelssohn's oratorio "Elijah" has been made by the Columbia Boychoir of Princeton with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra.

The recording, available in numerous major record labels, the RCA Red Seal label, the Boychoir, with Mr. Ormandy and the orchestra, performed "Elijah" in concert at Philadelphia's Academy of Music during the Easter season.

CHILDREN'S CONCERT SET

For May 24, The Princeton Folk Singers Society with the Princeton Children's Chorus will present a children's concert, Saturday, May 24, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Trenton YWCA, 140 E. Hanover Street.

Tickets are available at $1.50 for children and $1 for adults. The concert is sponsored by the Parent's Association of the Children's Day School for Emotionally Handicapped Children, a Child Guidance Center of Mercer County, for the benefit of the organization's summer camp.

News Of The CHURCHES

STUDY PLAN DEFEATED
By Episcopal Delegates. The study of "diocesan structure, program and decision making processes" was washed out last week at the 185th annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of New Jersey.

Put forward by Rev. Canon James R. Whittemore, rector of Trinity, and backed by the vestry and some 50 clergymen, the proposal was first rejected by a majority of the convention's Committee on Resolutions and later carried to a hearing from the floor, where it was defeated.

"The mood of the students in this country," the Rev. Mr. Whittemore said from the pulpit on Sunday, "is to examine structures throughout the world—a mood that says the existing system—the power structure—is hypocritical and worthy of respect, demanded reform, I cannot help but feel in many instances that they are correct. Surely the experience of some of us at this convention that past week proved beyond the doubt that we were precisely correct."

A resolution put forth by the Rev. Canon Bruce A. Wehrly of Trinity Parish, Morristown, to raise the salary of vicars of missions from $4,800 to $6,000 was also defeated after lengthy debate. Bishop Alfred L. Banyard declared the cost prohibitive.

Bishop Charges Harassment. Throughout the past two sessions and on my banner "No More," I have been harangued with feuding, fighting and fussing on the part of clergy who are dissatisfied with diocesan structure, discipline and worship of the church. The harassment on the part of the dissidents must cease. We received an embezzlement of $10,000, which was discovered in the diocesan funds and that arrangement has been made privately to pay the money back, with no court action taken.

The Trinity proposal, based upon a manifesto from the Anglican Communion, asked for a study of the combined ministry, including salaries, benefits, deployment, placement, tenure, supervision, guidance, evaluation, career development, continuing education.

(2) a study of missions and assisted parishes, including the possibilities of merger and dissolution; (3) a study of urban work, including priority areas for which local and diocesan resources should be mobilized; (4) a study of communication, including the possibilities of more effective regional councils, and (5) a study of diocesan finance, aiming toward maximum and efficient financial support of the church's mission.

Unorthodox Meetings. The bishop told the convention that he had come from "a quiet 'council'" that meetings have been called and discussions held about dividing the diocese. "All this has been done without my permission or approval," he said.

There were two plans discussed unofficially, as reported in the Evening Times: 1) Pulling the northern part of the diocese away and joining it to the Diocese of Newark; 2) forming a separate diocese from Mercer (with the exception of Trenton), Hunterdon, Middlesex, Monmouth and possibly Union and Burlington counties.

Some 30 clergymen from Princeton and the rest of the Union County area are said to be among the dissident factions. The entire diocese has less than 200 active ministers in its area, however.

"We will not be in union with the diocese and I order those who have been promoting this idea to abandon it," Bishop

Banyard told the convention.

Princeton delegates included the clergy of Trinity Parish and the following laymen: Garrison Young of the St. Casimir, Michael Breuer, Sydney G. Stevens, G. Reginald Bishop, all of Trinity Church, and alternates Mrs. Porter N. Leo, George Adriance and Frank German.

It was Mr. Young who rose and asked that the bishop's address be edited, deleting the "dry" comments on the return of clergymen before inserting it into the official record. This was strongly opposed.

GEORGE LYNN RESIGNS

From Choir College. George Lynn, composer and music director of Westminster Choir College, resigned from the faculty Thursday to return to his native Wales, where he will continue to be active in composition and church music.

In his five years as conductor of the 40-voice Westminster Choir College group, Lynn won national acclaim. The choir presented 130 concerts in 36 states, traveling more than 30,000 miles. They sang at the White House in 1965.

As conductor of the 250 voice Symphonic Choir, Mr. Lynn prepared choral works for Stokowski, Bernstein, Steinberg, Goodman, Von Karajan, Solti, Cliburn, Solti, Samanoff, Sir Arthur Bliss and others. Of the choir's work Stokowski wrote, "It is very good." Lynn, too, felt he had something in Art "perfect but that is what I feel about the chorus which you so greatly conducted."

Dr. Lynn has been head of the conducting department at the college since 1965. A graduate of Westminster in 1938, he had previously taught there from 1946 to 1952, returning in 1957 as director of choral activities. Lee H. Johnson, Jr., Westminster president, expressed the college's great regret at his resignation.

OFFICERS ELECTED

By Church Women United. The Church Women United of Princeton was named vice president of the Church Women United of Princeton at the annual meeting Saturday evening. Mrs. Orion D. Hopper, elected last year, is president. Also named were Miss Shirley B. Johnson of Princeton treasurer; Mrs. Walter E. Beers of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, chairman of "The Church Woman."

Mrs. John F. Wolf of Kingwood Presbyterian Church is chairman for the World Day of Prayer observance and Mrs. F. D. Eppes will lead the May 10 service. Mrs. John L. Collier and Mrs. Walter B. Foster Sr., both of First Presbyterian Church were named to the nominating committee.

ECW PLANS LUNCHEON

Dr. Bristol To Speak. The Episcopal Churchwomen of All Saints' Chapel will hold its annual luncheon meeting at 12:30 next Tuesday, New Jersey Avenue. Dr. Bristol Jr., president of Westminster Choir College, is the featured speaker. A lay preacher in the Episcopal Church and vice chairman of the Board of Governors of Church Music, he is a member of the board of the New York Philharmonic, the Berkeley Divinity School and the International Society of the Creative Education Foundation.

A composer of choral and organ music, Dr. Bristol will speak on the topic "Music to His Heart." Refreshments will be made with Mrs. Robert S. Christie (921-6238) or Mrs. Joseph R. Goeke (924-4448). Baby sitting arrangements may be made with Mrs. Grace Bonner (924-0581).

BLACK ANTI-SEMITISM: It was out in the open at the Princeton Pastors' Association.

Rabbi Reeve Brenner said Sunday, "Perhaps we could make a statement... come to an understanding."

RABBI PLACES BLAME

For Black Hostility. "I subscribe to the notion that the new Jersey Black animosity is to be placed at the door posts of the white Christian community," Rabbi Reeve R. Brenner of the Princeton Jewish Center said Sunday at a community church.

Addressing the rector's forum between services, he outlined the history of the Black-Jewish enterprise of minority groups that have had a fine relationship to each other."

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, he said, was a Black Jewish enterprise. The black colleges of the South were supported almost entirely by Jewish funds until it became clear that the Jews did not want the Jews who lost their lives were Jews."

"Black ministers helped the Jewish ministers in fighting prayer in school. Martin Luther King called himself a Jew and even though he got him up to all kinds of abuse, the slaves traders who exploited the blacks were Arabs and Moslems... and he was a Jew."

He told a restless, interested audience of some dozen middle-aged adults that he had tried to reach out to the

Obituaries

Mar Adlerman, 77, of Roosevelt and Miami Beach, Fla., died May 6 in North Miami Beach. Born in Brooklyn, he was the founder of Adlerman & Co., Princeton realty and insurance firm.

For the past 12 years, he had divided his time between Roosevelt and Florida. Mr. Adlerman was a member of the Congregation Anshei Roosevelt and the Masonic Lodge and the Elks Lodge. A former president of the Board of Education in Roosevelt, Mr. Adlerman was the government agent in financing Jersey Homesteads, which later was renamed Roosevelt. He was licensed Insurance and Real Estate Brokerage.

Husband of Ross W. Adlerman, he is survived by a son, Edward A. Adlerman of Roosevelt; two daughters, Mrs. Edythe T. Click of Princeton and Mrs. Lois Rubinstein of Yardley, Pa.; three sisters and five grand children.

The service was held at Congregation Anshei, Rabbi Heribert Biakoff officiating. Burial was in Roosevelt Cemetery.

William J. Hahr, 66, of Cherry Valley Road, died May 8 in Princeton Hospital.

A native of New York City, Mr. Hahr came to Princeton 50 years. He was head inspector of dormitory inspection of Princeton University.

He was an honorary member of the Roxbury Fire Company and a member of Odd Fellows Lodge 106.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Marion H. Hahr; a son, Robert W. Hahr, of Princeton; and a sister, Mrs. Alice H. Belding of Monmouth Junction.

The service was held in the Kimball Funeral Home, the Rev. Steven A. Rock of the Blawenburg Reformed Church officiating. Interment was in the Blawenburg Cemetery. Memorial gifts may be sent to the Princeton Hospital Building Fund.

Mrs. Grace S. Earle, 84, of 20 Cedar Lane, died May 12 in Princeton Hospital. Born in Mississippi, she had lived in Princeton for the past six years.

Widow of William Earle, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Ruth Murray of Princeton, and a nephew, Robert D. Murray Jr., with whom she lived, and several other nieces and nephews.

The service will be held Thursday at 1:30 at the Kimball Funeral Home, the Rev. Reuel S. Kaighn of Trinity Episcopal Church officiating. Burial will be in Princeton Cemetery.

Mose T. Cipelli, 79, of Clarksville Road, Princeton, died May 13 in Princeton Hospital. A native of Italy, he came to this country in 1906 and had lived in the Princeton area for the past 23 years.

Mr. Cipelli was employed by Palmer Square, Inc., for 15 years prior to his retirement. He is survived by his wife, Maria Cipelli, a daughter, Mrs. Irene Bussell of West New York; a son, Herman J. of Princeton Junction; two sisters in Italy; and two grandchildren.

Requies mass will be celebrated at St. Paul's Church Friday at 9:30, with burial in the Jewish cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Born near Cranbury, he lived in Plainsboro and Kingsbridge.

He was a farmer until later

he was employed by Princeton Nurseries.

Three sons survive: William H. of Princeton, Mrs. Helen of Kingston and Elizabeth of Dover. He also leaves a daughter, Mrs. Helen Singer of Trenton; a brother, Warren of Cranbury; and six grandchildren. His wife, Mrs. Mary Cipelli, of Cranbury, was followed to burial in Cranbury Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary E. Roth, 71, of Route 1, Princeton, died May 11 in Mercer Hospital.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Pennington.

She is survived by her husband, George Roth, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Burgess of Trenton; a grand-daughter and two great-grandchildren.

A service will be held Thursday at 11 at the Pennington Room for Funerals, Pennington Circle. The Rev. Donald J. Thiel of the First Presbyterian Church will officiate, with burial in Harbordown Cemetery.

Princeton black ministers at recent meeting of the Pastors' Association.

Not from the pulpit, "One black clergymen told me he could not possibly at this point discuss this from the pulpit because he would be shouted down if he did," said the man who severely exploited throughout his life by a Jewish employer for 20 years. When I asked "why didn't you leave?" he said "I'd been fired and could find no other job."

Rabbi Brenner related that the clergymen told him that both the whites and blacks worked for the man at low wages. "The reason is that he didn't give a damn whether you were black or white," he quoted himself, adding, "The minister failed to see that he was employed for a good mark."

He commented on recent books and newspaper stories on race surveys, pointing to show inferiority of blacks and the superiority of the Jews. "This is disturbing. This opens the door to black relations with the white Christian. Why? Christians are anti-Semitic and the black wants to become a white Christian by finding a common enemy."

He is moved to the second between himself as an Army chaplain and the black chaplains, invitations to speak in Harlem churches. "Why? The Jew-Negro relationship has deteriorated rapidly. Me as well as everybody else. We are two minority groups vulnerable and visible."

In New York, he said, the black confronts four types of white people in his daily rounds: "the social worker, the teacher, the businessman, all Jewish," and the police, who are Irish.

Christian society has "permitted Jews to seek only certain types of employment. They are the victim of a vulnerable element (to the black). There's no hope for the black to take over the banks and insurance companies in the major countries of exploitation of the Negro. And the Jews stand immediately over the barrier."

speaker, Richard S. Moore is class leader.

The Camp Fund of the Princeton Church Women Unit has received $1,458.86 to date, according to chairman Mrs. Harry Hill. The 1968 program which sent 22 boys and girls to camp cost $4,000. This year's goal is $1,800, marking the 10th anniversary of the fund.

James Billington, professor of history at Princeton University, will discuss "Contemporary Issues in Higher Education" this Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the University Clergy Colloquium. Dean Neil Radstone will respond to the address. The six lectures, sponsored by the university chaplains, have been devoted to issues of special concern to the ministry.

A BRAND NEW LISTING IN EGERTON — What could be more desirable than a handsome salt box with weathered cedar exterior and moss green trim on a beautifully planned lot sloping to the woods along Stony Brook? Inside, the entrance hall is fanked by living room with fireplace and bookshelves and separate dining room. Down a few steps from a sparkling new kitchen, there is a large family room with sliding glass doors to a covered brick terrace, as well as laundry and lavatory. Upstairs, there are six bedrooms and two baths arranged on three levels for maximum privacy. The entire house is in excellent condition and probably won't last a minute in our present competitive market. Offered here for the first time at $79,500

A COUNTRY PLACE OF GREAT CHARM secluded behind an ivy-covered stone wall. Just at the Western edge of Princeton, this beautiful, small estate has everything your heart desires. The 150-year-old main house with its silvery-gray exterior of cedar shingles has been lovingly restored over the past 18 years by its present owners. On the ground floor, there is an entrance hall with powder room, living room with fireplace, dining room with fireplace, step-down study, country kitchen with sunny breakfast area, and screened porch. On the second floor, there are four bedrooms and two baths; and on the third, a rustic paneled lean-age hideaway of two rooms. Besides the house, there is a large sturdy barn; a carriage house, which will accommodate four cars, and eminently rentable tenant cottage; a beautiful Sylvan pool with terrace and cabana. The trees and gardens are incomparable. $98,500

DISTINGUISHED GEORGIAN HOUSE OF WHITE-WASHED BRICK on over seven acres within five minutes of Nassau Street. Lovely rooms for entertaining include sunken living room, formal dining room, and paneled study, all with fireplaces. Large hutch's pantry and kitchen. Six bedrooms, sewing room, and four baths on the second floor. Playroom with fireplace. Two-car garage. Lovely pool and pool house. Irreplaceable plantings. One of a kind $175,000 vine assumed a splendid lisp to portray Winthrop, the silent lad who responds to the Music Man's warm-hearted therapy. Young Winthrop had a high-spirited, with huge and wonderful eyes, was Amaryllis, the young piano player who can't quite hear that one wrong note.

It is always a nice surprise in an amateur production to find excellence even in the smallest roles. Here we have Leonard Schaeffer, a senior at the University, doing a fine job as Marcellus, the Music Man's side-kick, (he's the one who says "I'm not a bad boy"). Parnes ("but he doesn't know the territory") is the travel-lust salesman who spills the beans about Prof. Harold.

'MUSIC MAN' GREAT!

P. J. & B. Has Hill. How can you have a bangsiam, sock-dangler, gallus-snapping, fire-cracker of a production as Musical Man, without even one piece of brass in the orchestra pit, let alone 76 trombones, and only a couple of pianos to keep the cast company? You can, the answer is, if you have Milton Lyon to direct, Joan Lucas to design the cast, Greg Farrell as the dances, Joan McCarter Theatre Music Man himself, Prof. Harlan to lend his professional hock, old Hill showed us once again stage and screen that he still has it. His skill as a brassy-tight-chorus to bring the show to life and, as Mr. Farrell was born with that straw that make the word "announcer" ridiculous, cocked over one calculating eye?

Newcomer Carol Peterson, Marian the Librarian, projected a clear, sweet, true voice and a character to match.

Young red-haired Alan Le-

If you hadn't seen a P. J. & B. production before, you may have been dismayed to discover pianos — pianos! — crashing out the brassy overture.

But when the curtain went up, and you saw the railroad car full of traveling salesmen, swaying, jouncing in flawlessly co-ordinated rhythm to the "movement" of the train, you knew that professionalism would be the key for the whole delightful evening.

The Major Share. The credit has to be handed evenly around, but most of it goes to Mr. Lyon. Pace, timing, split-second response, immediate responsiveness of touch — everything you can think of that makes a professional production. Mr. Lyon shows how to draw out of his 109 amateurs and semi-pros.

He is a showman, Mr. Lyon. After the opening chorus, for example, when we learn how stubborn they can be in Iowa, he sends the members of the chorus in a framed tableau of Grant Wood's "American Gothic." He does some cut-ups (Marian's song, "Knee-High Dancer," etc., left off) to make room for Joan Lucas' dances, and he makes such a dancing-singing-pantomime special out of "Seventy-Two Ranch" that you expect John Philip Sousa himself to come prancing out of the wings to join the Pied Piper Music Man and his flock of happy children.

style. When Mrs. Sheldon spits out "Balzac!" as every body knows, a DIRTY writer, she encapsulates the literary vision of modern America in a single word.

Mrs. Lucas' choreography for P. J. & B. is always noteworthy, but she seems to have struck an especially happy note with her Music Man dances. In the library scene, for instance, she uses only a few dancers to create a little hillside atmosphere, and has the lone girls in and out of the stacks and then carry them gracefully to the hook ears. For Sheldon, she does the kind of exuberant, hot dancing that brings back recollections of "Oklahoma!" and Agnes de Mille. And her intricate, patient work, for example, in "Tronches," is a joy to watch.

Dennis Dougherty's scenery costumes and illumination, as he does it, is a library where you can almost smell the mustiness but with horizontal and vertical spaces that allow freedom for Mrs. Alice Parker's girls. He has a shabby front porch in need of paint for Marian's cottage and he does a fine piece of urban planning for River City's main street.

Richard Smart's costumes are authentic 1912. His Early Iowa Classic drapery for the ladies doing their Grecian urns are quite possibly of museum caliber, and the ladies' gym bloomers . . . .

The 54 young members of the River City boys' band wear their red capes uniformly year after year, and it certainly isn't hard to imagine Professor Hill selling them as fast as hawthorne hawes.

They were saying, around town in Princeton, and River City — that "The Music Man" is P. J. & B.'s best musical farce. And if you heard the audience roar, break out spontaneously into rhythmic clapping in time to "Seventy Six Trombones," you knew it was probably true.

Smoke at the Movies?

Princeton University undergraduates who want to smoke at the movies are running head on into a Borough ordinance against it.

The ordinance was passed years ago when students sat in the balconies at the Garden and smoked. The ordinance was enacted because they flipped the burning butts into the audience below.

third, trailed by Italy and England.

They enjoy a short vacation or a cation before the major opening. And they were more underground and experimental films. A strong segment asked for more science fiction movies.

The students want more of old films: "The Graduate," topped most lists, followed by "Tom Jones" and "Yellow Submarine." The Beatles' film in a three-way tie for fourth place are "Faces," "Dr. Strangelove," and "Blow up."

They suggested old flick festivals of Humphrey Bogart and G. Field. Film festival charges the feature offerings less delay in getting new films to Princeton; lower, or student rates; late shows on the weekend; more publicity about offerings; and they finished off with a huge demand for popcorn. A want ad in the paper for non-smokers ("although this is hard on the non-smokers," Mr. Andrews noted).

Fred Blaicher, president of Palmer Square, Inc., and theater manager Richard Knight, are interested in the idea, according to Mr. Andrews. Palmer Square picked up the tab, as its first act, retrieved "The Graduate" from storage for a two-week run during the academic year to book the other films. "We'll probably wait until fall," Mr. Knight says.

He explained on Friday that the earlier showings of new films is not possible because "Princeton doesn't have the population to support an extended engagement of a new release. There are enough foreign films. They are also photographed in 35-mm., and the prints are held in reserve for the long-run, repeat-seat engagements in the big cities or through."

The McCarter Theatre, he noted, has been holding re-runs of old films, which he believes interest the students more than the general public.

He adds that the science-fiction films are brought here "when they are the better ones," mentioning "Barbarella," "Star Trek," "Space Odyssey," both of which had strong audience pull. The same ap-pplies to the foreign films. "We play the best of them."

Mr. Knight added at his point of the survey: "We used to be able to get a film 14 days after the New York opening. Recently, however, the territory was changed so we are now considered Philadelphia territory — and we have to wait for the Philadelphia opening. They don't always open here. The last time they opened in New York, they were in Trenton's place as far as Trenton's concerned. Sometimes we get pictures ahead of New York because they opened in Philadelphia earlier. That is hardly beneficial, because we don't have the benefit of the New York review." The "Opposites" Tour, "Local Sheriff" was one of those, and did well here because of good word-of-mouth."

The complexities of film rental percentages, size of the house are all factors in booking a film, he explains. "We often have to guarantee the rental. In the 1950s there was a flat rental of 10 percent; now it is all percentage. There are not as many pictures made as there were when we changed films twice a week. There are not as many pictures, there's not nearly as many made today."

And popcorn? "Well, there's the smell and the mess. It depends on the atmosphere. Fred Blaichner holds the line on this, and before him, Mrs. Edgar Palmer carried the standard."

NEXT YEAR IS READY

At McCarter, A repertory of eight plays will be produced next season in the 1969-70 drama series at McCarter. The first will be "The Firebugs" in the fall with "The Firebugs," a contemporary play by the Swiss playwright Max Frisch, who tells three mad arsonists who inflict fire on their elderly couple. Eventually the man and wife collaborate in their own destruction. The basic question — "Who is guilty and who is innocent?" is fundamental to the drama.

Subsequent plays will be John Steinbeck's American classic, "Of Mice and Men"; George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion," from which, of course, "My Fair Lady" was drawn; J. M. Barrie's "Peter Pan"; and Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness," the acute biographical tale of small-town life 60 years ago.

The season's Shakespeare will be "Twelfth Night" and "Cressida," to be followed by a Restoration comedy from the works of William Congreve, either "Way of the World" or "Love for Love."

The year will conclude next spring with the premiere of a new play, yet to be chosen.

FROM OFF-OFF BROADWAY To Theatre Intime, "The Madness of Lady Bright," by Lanford Wilson, will be Theatre Intime's final "Director's Showcase" production of the current season, running in Murray Theatre this Thursday at 8:30 and playing this weekend and next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

This play opened in 1964 at Caffe Cino in New York and was the first work to play

News Of The Theatres

...and more from the stage
There are no extended runs. It is the tragic-comic story of an aging homosexual who has a beauty and friends both with the passing of time.

Richard Miller, a resident of Princeton, will direct. The role of Leslie Bright will be played by Glenn Stover, a Princeton sophomore, and the Girl will be played by Risi Schatz, who is making her Intime debut with this play.

...AND W. C. FIELDS Is Remaining Festival Days. Three more evenings of festival films remain during McCarter Theatre's May Film Festival.

"The Shop on Main Street" will be shown this Thursday at 8 p.m. The Czech film won a 1965 Academy Award as the year's best short subject.

W. C. Fields will be on the program, too, with "The Fatal Glass Beer." Short films by Princeton University's undergraduate film-makers will round things out.

"Don't Look Back," Friday at 8, McCarter will show the Bob Dylan documentary, filmed by D. A. Pennebaker during the singer's 1967 tour of England.

Along with Dylan will be "Skaterdale," an Academy-winner, and more Princeton underdogs.

"The Bank Dick," "A Man and a Woman," The W. C. Fields will be shown at 7 p.m. "A Man and a Woman" will be at 8:30.

PAT SKY TO APPEAR

At Alexander Hall, Folksinger Pat Sky will appear in concert at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in Alexander Hall on the Princeton University campus.

Mr. Sky's programs sponsored by the Princeton Folk Music Society will feature traditional country songs and his own compositions, including "Reality is bad enough," "Separation Blues" and "Lonesome Mile."

Tickets for reserved seats may be purchased for $2.50 at the door of the concert or in advance at the Princeton University Store, Male's Book Store and Princeton Music Center.

TRIANGLE BACK

For Reunions Weekend, "A Different Kick," in which Princeton's famous Triangle Club takes a new direction toward the future, will be re-enacted at McCarter Theatre at 8:30 on June 6 and 7 for Reunion Weekend. Tickets are now available at the McCarter office.

The review, written and produced by Princeton University undergraduates who are members of Triangle, draws on the present college experience, from the dating game to drugs, and on to protest or conformity.

In this show, Triangle features its very first girl — Sue Jean Lee, a member of the musical ensembles group at the University.

The production includes a geodesic set, photographic projections and rock music by an on-stage band.

GARDEN

The Graduate (now playing) is a comedy concerning a graduate who knows not what to do about the girl she who becomes involved with an older woman and then falls in love with her daughter. Under the direction of Mike Nichols, the film is a series of interrelated (a plot) strongly reminiscent of the type of satirical sketch Nichols used to act with Elaine May.

Dustin Hoffman, as the hero, is an easy mark for Anne Bancroft, and when her daughter, played by Katherine Ross, comes onto the scene, our hero falls for her. The mother is determined he won't marry her offspring. Her efforts to stop him are the basis for the remainder of the sketches in the film.

The scenes, or sketches, are amusing and often hilarious, and the show ends in a bang. Nichols uses some modern free-wheeling techniques, melting shots through an aquarium and rock-and-roll background with vocals. —Continued On Page 30

IT'S NEW To Us

WANT TO TRY BARGELLO? On Long Island, today is the 20th anniversary of The Knitting Shop, 6 Tulane Street — whose customers are stitching more and knitting less.

"Cowl necks are completely taken over!" Mrs. Maureen Kimchick exclaims, her blue-green eyes a twinkle.

"We'll never get it back to what it was."

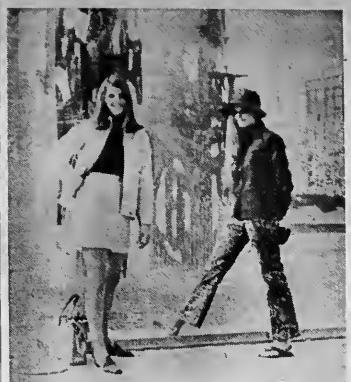

"And needlepoint! People want to do the whole canvas now. Not just fill in around the prepared center. They like it with front panel designs. Many of the people are so artistic that they do their own designing."

The Knitting Shop started at 188 Nassau Street, owned by the late Mrs. Natalie Dobray. Mrs. Kimchick became a partner in 1951, the same year the shop moved to 6 Tulane. Three years later, the partners opened a summer branch on Long Beach Island, which marked its 15th anniversary last summer.

"There have been a lot of changes," Mrs. Kimchick notes, "but we are still using the same classic yarn houses."

Columbia, Minerva, Spinney, and Reynolds, too. It was Reynolds' idea to really bring about the change in yarns with their novelty knits."

The shop used to carry boucle and wools described as "2-ply, 3-ply and 4-ply." Now there are more than 20 texture varieties, from one weight of yarn. You find cotton and acetate synthetics and silk, synthetics and mohair. "They are just beautiful." The yarns come from everywhere, Ireland, Belgium, England, Scotland, Italy, Japan. They range in price from $5.00 up, some to $5 for a small ball of pure lame.

Ribbons used to be a big item at the Knitting Shop, but now it's lace, feathers, pom-poms, knit or chenille ribbon dresses and sweaters today. The shelves are stocked with 13 varieties, pure rayon, rayon-and-silk, organdy, or pure silk ribbon, all for the costumers who gain their inspiration from Saks and Bergdorf's in New York.

The shop has a customer making a cocktail dress in gold lame, another is working on a lame evening jacket, but most are using light wools and feathers with gold or silver metallic threads.

"Teenagers today are doing beautiful work," Mrs. Kimchick offers. "You don't start becoming beginners with a little square of knitting. They begin with a scarf or a hat — and big needles, and they get a quick feeling of accomplishment."

Another rage of today is the latch rug, working short strands of heavy wool through a wide-mesh canvas. Some of the shop's 200 customers are embarking on some ambitious projects as 12 x 15 and 12 x 20 rugs ("I tried to discourage them"), but most are concentrating on the small, scatter rugs.

You will find here the upholstered needlepoint canvas 54" wide which you buy by the yard and convert yourself, or the chair cover and snowflake patterns. This is a Danish import, and the first yard Mrs. Kimchick sold was for a headboard. "They did it in two shades of green and brought it in for me to see. It was beautiful!" she recalls.

Bargello, however, is the up-and-coming name of the needlewoman, and as you browse through Elsa William's book on Florentine bargello at the Knitting Shop, you'll begin to understand its fascination. It has striking, repetitive patterns on mono-thread canvas. (You have to do the counting.) One of the shop's men, a tailor, is making eight male seats in bargello while he's recovering from a heart attack.

In 20 years the shop has been in business, customers have come and gone, but never lost touch with the shop. "They are so faithful," Mrs. Kimchick said, hanging up after a call from Zanesville, Ohio, a wire and order of call. If they came through Princeton, they'd stop in to take notes on catalogue numbers for their next project. One shopper, a group coming from New York, had with all those places right there in New York where they might go.

Lively and gregarious, she has made the Knitting Shop a basic part of many women's lives — worrying along with them over shades and hues, lending them books, loaning books to be Xeroxed, fixing up an error, and, tremendously artistic herself, offering original designs for rugs.

One of the shop's simply bordered rug, with its central design the Chinese word for "home."

Who's to Blame?

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I recently read your May 1 column, "Question of the Week," concerning campus demonstrations. I am sorry if my opinions were with the rioters; demonstrations were too unreasonable.

It's not the students that are unreasonable. It's the people who only care if their children can be heard and recognized by protesting or using violence, doesn't it make you want to give up to the fact that they are some sort of problem with us? Of course (for instance) the late Dr. Martin Luther King's demonstrations were peaceful but what results did they reap? Talk!

Problems are all around us. People write letters about them and the people bring them to the people of Princeton. "Not enough money," etc. But in campus demonstrations the problems are acted on. Results come of efforts.

So next time you hear of a violent campus disorder, don't say, "What is the matter with them?" Think. What is the matter with us?

Oversight Corrected.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In the annual appeal for funds which was sent out May 1 by the Princeton Small Animal League, the name of Mrs. A. C. Graves, Executive Secretary, was inadvertently omitted. This was a most regrettable and inexplicable error. We sincerely apologize to Mrs. Graves for the oversight and explaining to those who received the appeal that she is fortunately still with us.

Many hundreds of Princeton residents and small animal enthusiasts—had been led to believe from Mrs. Graves' expert, conscientious and patriotic efforts, that she was the mainstay of the organization, and we cannot let the occasion pass without calling the attention of the public to the fact that the organization is headed by a group of dedicated and warmly appreciated work on behalf of small animals and the people who love them.

Township Law Backed:

state, they say. I am glad if our officials support good river management. However, the landfall permit for the proposed (and rightly) by the State, not the Township. The fill was ordered removed by mid-April, but I note that it is still there. Does anyone know why?

I doubt if the girls employed by Princeton could afford to live in a deluxe apartment. And as to supposing that an apartment will alleviate traffic and parking errors, it is to be noted who, indeed, would walk to Nassau Street or the Shopping Center from Lower Alexander Street? I suppose certain "Ratshesses" are not always so scrupulous as to drive.

"Ratshesses" are not always the bargain they appear. The more people you import into a town the more services, schools, police, fire departments, etc., are needed.

Princeton is already an excellent example of population increase followed by large taxes.

Yours sincerely,

Come Walk in the Park.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This is an open letter of protest to all Princeton residents.

The Princeton Open Space Commission invites you to a hearing at the home of Alexander Street in the flood plain of Stony Brook.

In case of rain, it will be held on Friday, May 30, Memorial Day. The Open Space Commission has selected five areas: Herrentron Woods, Autumn Hill, Woodfield Reservation, Marwood Park, and the Wildlife Refuge to be featured for our walk.

These areas are supervised by various committees. Members of these committees will be at the entrance of each park to welcome the public, hand out brochures and descriptive material, and answer questions. There will also be an Open Space Commissioner at each park.

The purpose of our "Walk in the Park" is to make certain that local citizens are aware of their parks, how to get to them, and what facilities are available. We want to introduce the members of our Citizen's Committees to the public, and we ourselves want to meet people and hear their opinions. Besides, we think it is a pleasant idea for a spring afternoon.

Please extend this invitation to all your friends and neighbors. When you are parked between friends, it will ease our parking situation. We hope you will all come and enjoy our "open house" in the open air.

James C. Sayen, Chairman; Carl Breuer, H. Russell Butler, Thomas Cook, Elric B. Endres, Mrs. Elizabeth Fine, Lydia C. Fitch, J. N. Nichols, O. L. Parker, Mrs. Margaret Penick, Thomas Southerland, Open Space Commissioners.

WHAT ARE THE DRAWBACKS? asks Al DeStefano, manager of the Varsity Sport Shop, in commenting on the placing on the ballot the question of a state lottery. "I don't see any disadvantages to it," he adds. "I've been in favor of it for a long time."

Question Of The Week

Question: In November, the voters will decide whether New Jersey will have a state lottery. What do you think? Are you in favor of or opposed to state lotteries?

Where asked: Around town,

Al DeStefano, Middlesex, manager of Varsity Sport Shop, 95 Nassau. Most definitely, favor! What are the drawbacks? I think that's the way you have to look at it. I don't see any disadvantages to it. If it goes through, it will help to the taxpayer. I've been in favor of it for a long time. If gambling, per se, is supposed to be legal at the track, how can you do it for one and not for the other? What we all of us of a sucker!

Karl Styron, Hightstown, carpenter: Sure, we need a lottery. People are going to bet anyhow, but I don't think it will bring in as much as most people think. I think they won't be making better than break even. There are a lot of administrative costs associated with a lottery. That's what New York is finding out.

Bob Cala, Trenton, sales clerk at Tiger Auto: I'd probably be in favor of it. The state can bring in everything else . . . and they are . . . it might as well be in on a lottery, too. I don't see why it shouldn't be sooner or later that state gets into it. It's a long shot. It's a matter of time. I don't think it will relief the taxpayer that much. If anything, the tax situation will get worse, lottery or no lottery. That's the way it's been going for the past 15 years.

Fred Callender, Ewing Township, electrician for R. F. Johnson: I'm in favor of it. I like the idea. I think it will be a little relief for the taxpayers who are paying about all they can right now.

Rufus Marks, Trenton, employed by Princeton-Wright Window Cleaning Co.: I like em' real. If you're lucky you have a chance to win a lot of money. I don't mind paying for a chance, not all the time. About every three months I come in and buy around with Irish Sweepstakes tickets and I buy one of those every time. Once I won $100 and I've been trying to win again ever since.

Mike Headley, Trenton, sales clerk for Solo-Nassau Paint Store, 126 Nassau: I'm a little opposed to it. I just don't think we should have a lottery. To me, it's a lot of gamblers in a sense. I prefer to raise money in some other way, although I'm not prepared to say at this moment what means I would take over a lottery.

John Breuneman, 388 Prospect Avenue, architect: I'm opposed to state lotteries. I think they are just one avenue let the Mafia into "legalized" gambling. They may have been unsuccessful in states where they have been tried, and they are used by people who can least afford it. In short, they are not moral.

Miss Irma Della Pezza, 29 Henry Avenue, restaurant owner: I think it could possibly be in favor of it. People gamble anyway, why not make it legal? I definitely think it will help raise revenue; why not take advantage of it?

Mrs. Rose Romeo, 69 Erdman Avenue, restaurant owner: I think it could possibly be in favor of it. People gamble anyway, why not make it legal? I definitely think it will help raise revenue; why not take advantage of it?

Mrs. Nancy Lamberti, Graduate College, graduate student, chemistry: Very much in favor, since it is up to the individual if he wants to take part in it or not. Everybody is going to lose, and a lot are obviously going to lose money — at least it is not going into some other game like pocket billiards, which is very raise revenue, and those who have an incurable gambler's urge can take it out on this.

Richard Craig, Somerville, draftsman for Princeton firm: I think they are a very good source for income. In fact, it might even reduce or possibly remove the upcoming tax Governor Hughes is going to slap on us for a jetport and things like that. I think a lottery is a very good deal; you have the option to buy or not.

Mrs. Joan More, 5 Lemore Circle, Hightstown: I think if it is used for education, the pressure to pay should be on all the taxpayers. Education is a matter of public concern. Education is so essential to the development of a democratic society. I think the opportunity to support it should be shared by all rather than have it dependent on the uncertain revenue of a lottery.

ART In Princeton

A VISIT TO PERU
At Gallery 100, John Borden of Gallery 100, is sharing his recent trip to Peru with visitors to the gallery during a two week period ending May 12.

A continual slide show takes one visually through the Peruvian landscape from an arid coastal plain to narrow streets and markets bright with fiesta, past shops and far up into the mountains. A picture book background is prettily set and punctuated with live characters and animals.

Gathered together arenum group of artifacts, some rough, soft as down, or white or featuring striking llama designs in brown and white, hammered and pierced, leather and candle shades, hats and blankets of the traditionally wild and wonderful Indian colors and various kinds of pictorial art. A portion of the collection of Puerto has taken from a Mo chico pottery its design of colorful figures, fierce and ferocious.

M. Borden has special interest in the artist Liber Frid man, whose work he hopes to exhibit fully next month. Fridman's painting here is called "Painting incorporating original Indian textiles." It represents a bird which, in turn incorporates a portion of a traditional Indian textile.

This is a show to try and fun to see, especially for children.

McCartier Theatre features photographs by Ulli Steltzer of Princeton entitled "Our Sorrows, Our Joy, Our Love." These have been taken in a group of photographs by a Black student in Atlanta when he described them to his college paper. The Normalville Council of Arts for a traveling show which includes these and a large number of other photographs by Ulli Steltzer.

Anote familiar with her work knows how she treats her subjects with enormous sensitivity. Her portraits, many of which feature need no words to tell their tales. They are eloquent, touching and dramatic. She depicts, as she says, "the boy with pigtails or the smiling girl with wispy hair, they are spontaneous and utterly charming."

TRENTON ART MUSEUM
Fourth Annual Show. The fourth annual juried exhibition of paintings, prints and graphics, known as Art from the Heart, will run through June 29 at the New Jersey State Museum in Trenton.

Among the 157 works chosen are Joseph Ollman, junior for sculpture; and Sam Malin, junior of graphics, were works of the following artists:

Artists — Marvin Kenner Johnson whose color graphic "Beginnings" won the First Trenton Art Museum Purchase Award; Ann Gross, whose painting "The Migration Crisis" won the Mr. and Mrs. Shirley W. Morgan Purchase Award; Dorothy Greenbaum's bronze "Levina" and etching "Inferno"; Robin Liebman's etching "Desert"; Marie Sturken's intaglio, "Cradle"; and Anna Ortmann's "Window 11," a mixed media construction and C Whidden Ortmann's "Earth song," an acrylic polymer on canvas.

Chinese Art Coming. An exhibition of paintings of the Ming and Ch'ing Dynasties

HE IS NAMELESS and faceless, identified only by his color and occupation—migrant. Artist Rev. Goreleigh speaks of him as "the migrant." With David, Gabriella Kiss, Gregory Kiss, Laurie Kroschell, Ellen Axmann, Lisa Eiden, Jessie Johnson, Lisa Blumenthal, Dorothy Dryden, Paul Krauss, Missy Duncan, Barbara Chen, David Caulkin, Jeffrey Hirsch, Paul Rubin, Ann Gillespie, Bruce Johnson, Lisa Curran.

PICTURE EXHIBIT
At Witherspoon Free. An exhibition of paintings, "World of the Migrant Worker," by Rev. Goreleigh, will be held Sunday in Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church, Princeton. The annual Migrant Art Show Tea of the Women's Association.

The exhibit opens 2:30 p.m. and follows with discussions of the migrant arts by Rev. Goreleigh. The tea reception begins at 4.

Mr. Goreleigh, a member of the Governor's Council on Arts, began his paintings of the black migrant in 1962. I traveled back and forth to the South to conduct arts and craft classes for a summer program sponsored by Roosevelt's Board of Education," he says.

I had hoped then, that many children from the surrounding farms could attend. My real interest became apparent when I passed by a shack that had been burned down and the family huddled together in the shell less than a hundred feet in the fire the night before. It was my first direct exposure to the way they lived . . . .

A Princeton resident since 1947 when he came to direct the Princeton Group Arts program, Goreleigh studied at the Studio back on Canal, Alexander Street, where art workshops and exhibitions are held year round. His art education began in 1940 when he studied with Xavier Gélin. He later studied painting with André L'Hôte in Paris and sculpture with Leo Z. Moll in Berlin.

WORLD DIAMOND SUPPLY

Since the discovery of diamonds in South Africa in 1866, that area has ranked first among the world's gem diamond producers. Today, the second largest diamond producing area is the USSR. Following is South West Africa and Angola. According to one recent report, the total annual production for 1967 was 43,360,000 carats as compared to 28,130,000 carats in 1966 and 14,140,000 carats in 1965. The reason for the increase for this large production is the ever-increasing demand for both gem and industrial rough diamonds.

Now, however, concerned mineralogists are asking "how long will the supply last?" Industry is requiring more diamonds than ever before, and our rising population with its greater affluency is also demanding more and greater diamonds for industrial development and investment. This is the major reason why we jewelers have found diamond mining to be the trend. Today, fine diamonds are traded at a premium and command premium prices.

Often, when asked about synthetic diamonds, there are several firms in the United States pushing ahead on this basis, so far only in diamond quality. Synthetic diamonds are usually produced. These resemble genuine bits of sand, and are certainly not suitable for jewelry. Other synthetic diamonds that are advertised and said to resemble diamonds are most often synthetic rutile, spinel or silicon titanate. In no case do they duplicate the hardness, durability or beauty of the genuine diamond and therefore are not properly called "synthetic diamonds."

SCARED INTO HEALTH

Do we have to be scared into safeguarding our health, much as not great-grandparents were scared into heaven by threats of hell's fire and brimstone?

Some of the advertising and public relations "brains" behind some of the current health campaigns evidently think so. They're certainly using the old fear psychology. We think they're over doing it, though. They've emphasized an obesity technique, an admonition to the trade, in an effort to get people to run, walk, to the nearest doctor.

What's worse, we think that a great deal of unnecessary mental anguish as well as actual injury, may be done and is being done by the cowboyish few. We should know by now that when you are least prepared, and least aware of their thoughts and their health, you can scare them into it, any more than you can scare them into being good — and make it stick.

Even the health campaigns will profit most in the long run by people encouraged to take the calm, intelligent look at the facts.

We think it would be a good idea to change the emphasis of the health campaign. Instead of it in our cooperative and amazingly successful drives against disease, both mental and physical. Such a change would lift up our heart, and we believe, open our pocket-books, too.

DECISION AT ITHACA

Ithaca Baseball and Lacrosse. Games at Cornell Saturday will determine the status of success Princeton's baseball and lacrosse teams will achieve this spring.

The Tigers are hopeful that a victory over the Ithacans will earn it a berth in the NCAA District II Tournament, scheduled for Memorial Day weekend in Williamsport, Pa. The event has been held here for the past six years, but the NCAA won't help meet the expenses and Princeton felt it had donated sufficient funds.

Of the teams in this district (New Jersey, Penn, Princeton, Delaware), only St. John's, which began the week with a 23-7 record, is assured of being named as one of the four entries in the play-offs. Cornell, however, if winning the Eastern League title, might well be chosen if it defeats the Tigers.

Couch, Eddie, Princeton's manager, is a coach against most of the top teams in the district, including victories over St. John's, NYU, Villanova, Fordham, Lafayette and Army. It has been believed that equal success in its own circuit, and while there is no rule prohibiting selection of more than one team from the Eastern League, chances of such duplication are unlikely.

Sim Chance Left. The lacrosse team's hopes that Cornell might upset Brown Saturday, therefore, gave Princeton a clear shot at the Ivy title, were realized — but to no avail. While the revived Ithacans were edging the first-

Now the problem is to defeat the defending champions at Ithaca after successive losses to Harvard and Yale. Cornell, however, has Cornell, who has recorded its form with victories over Yale and Brown after losing to Harvard and Penn. There is plenty of incentive for the Ithacans to do so, too. Cornell and Dartmouth in their final games, they can share a share of the title with Princeton, who they held alone in 1968.

Two Easterns at Ithaca. A year ago, Princeton's strong golf team felt it could win the tournament, but the tournament was staged here at Springfield. Harvard took top honors, however, by ten strokes, and the Tigers finished second. They did so last weekend, placing three of their players in the top four spots and recording an Eastern total of 75. Penn State was runner-up, six strokes behind.

The final match on the schedule will be played Saturday at Springfield against Harvard. Coach Dutee Scotch's team is hopeful that it can trim the highly regarded Crimson to which it lost last spring at Cambridge.

CREW PLACES THIRD As Seeded, Princeton's third seeded crew finished third Saturday in the Eastern Sprint Championships at Worcester, Mass. It was the first time the Tigers had done that well since 1951.

While rowing is pretty much a form sport, there was something of an upset when Harvard defeated favored Pennsylvania. On rougher water at Philadelphia a week

Reception for Colman

A reception and cocktail party for Dick Colman, Princeton football coach for the past 24 years and head coach since 1957, will be given Saturday, May 24, in the Princeton Gymnasium. It will begin at 7:30 p.m. and last until 7:30, with a presentation scheduled for 7 p.m.

The occasion is being planned by the Princeton University Alumni Association, headed by Russell D. Gray of New York. The cost is $10. Tickets are on sale at the Princeton University Store and will be available at Judd's the evening of the 24th.

Colman resigned last December and will become Director of Athletics at Middlebury on July 1. He first came to Princeton in 1945 as an assistant to Caldwell's staff and was named his successor when Caldwell died in November, 1957. In 12 years, his teams won 75 games and lost 33 for a percentage of .694.

Earlier, the Quakers had become the first college crew in six years to trim the Crimson, winning by a length and a half over 2,000 meters.

Harvard took virtually from the beginning in Saturday's six boat final, and Princeton, which had been between Princeton and Penn for second place, a slim 10-yard mark was reached. The Red Bird finished in front by as much as a length.

The Tigers then cut into this margin, and trailed by three-quarters of a length at the finish. Princeton had a fine 6:01. Penn was almost five seconds slower—6:06.1—with the Tigers clocked in 6:07.9.

Wisconsin, Cornell and Northeastern followed in that order. In competition for the Rose Cup, which Harvard won, was a boat race for the performance of its crews. Princeton was fourth behind the Crimson, Penn and Cornell.

In other segments of the day's program on wind-swept Lake Carnegie, Princeton, Jay von 150 lbs., won freshman weight and the lightweight variety placed sixth in championship events. The 150 lb. freshman and jayvee shells failed to qualify.

Paul Colman drew a walk and on a 2-2 count, stole second. Then he beat the throw home and when the hit got away at the plate, Colburn went to third.

Switch-hitting Bo Hunter, who had twice fanned bat right-handed against the left-handed pitchers, crossed and recrossed the plate and counted on him mounted to 3 and 2. The maneuvering had its effect. Hunter got a shoulder-high fastball while hitting left-handed and laced it into right field.

The right fielder tried for a shoestring catch but the ball rolled past him all the way to the fence. The fielder Hunter, who had his hands up and standing up, recrossed and reached the side in order in the middle, aided by a fine throw from the pitcher, that cut down an Army runner trying to stretch a foul-line single to single to bases.

For seven innings, Army made a lone stand up. Army had punched two hits and three hits Mike Farnsworth yield ed to score once, and it began to appear that that might be the difference, as the Tigers let all their base runners stranded.

Franklin Friday, The Notre Dame game has been rescheduled for Thursday on the Irish's home diamond, and on Friday, PHS will host Frankford, a family starter, at 4:45. Tuesday afternoon it will play Notre Dame again at home.

Against St. Anthony last week, Carter Tim Reiling went all the way for PHS and scattered five hits. He pitched well enough to win him he was undone by costly errors. In the Little Tigers' most damaging of which was a three base, two-run error by rightfielder Chuck Alford, who had run behind the plate to the outfield. Only one of the visitors run was earned.

Unfortunately, the "most-garnish the basic weakness of the Little Tigers surfaced again; they can't hit the ball. Last week they won a game without their batters hitting the ball the time they could only muster three—a double by Dave Drake, a single by John Pease and the first hit of the season by sophomore catcher John Hughes.

As a team, the club is having anemic .339. The leading hitters are the two three-year veterans, third baseman Tom Graham and team captain Drake, both hitting .280. After a slow start, Pease has come on and his average is .222.

Everyone else is below .140. Centerfield Hal Logan is still less than 21 trips to the plate; Louie John Ross, who has the size and strength to be a ball-a-ton, is hitting .048. Although only nine of 27 runs scored against the Little Tigers, the PHS fielding and pitching is the equal of the best in the county. But it's a team that can't hit its own weight in going down in the win column, as the Little Tigers are finding out.

COUNTRY MEET SATURDAY
The Country Meet will be one of ten to compete in the 23rd annual Mercer County Track and Field Meet to be held Saturday, June 13, at Trenton High School field. It is sponsored by the Trenton Jaycees.

Field events will begin at 12 noon and the running events half past. The track meet will be open to competition by all schools except the junior high school.

From its second of eight starts Saturday at Hanover Park when it defeated the home team by two goals, the final score was 5 to 3, Eugene Holland, Steve Purvis and Matt Mazzarella, Pete McCrohan and Mike Tomlinson each once. Now only four contests remain, Friday, the Little Tigers will play at Princeton at George School on Wednesday, the 21st. A rematch with Hanover Park—the final home game—and a finale at Montclair to wind up the season.

LOSE TO HUN
Perhaps the PHS wanted this year to let get away last week when it lost to Princeton in overtime, 10-8. With only one other victory to add to its belt this season, a 13-3 triumph over Princeton Day School, a triumph over Hun would have given the Little Tigers to salvage some of the season by claiming the Princeton Area championship.

But after playing on its home field, scored four goals in the second period to take a 5-1 half-time lead. Led by Nat Wutkins who had three goals and two assists, Bill Purvis and Jim Wharton each added two goals apiece, Rumbel being credited in addition with two assists. Steve Brown, Howard Wood and Bill George added single tallies.

The Little Tigers participated in only one event—the 800 relay, which finished with three runs, a .220. They finished fourth in their heat with Union, Thomas Jefferson and Edian. When anchor man Julian Solotorovsky's right ankle bent, so did the Little Tigers in Pennington.

SATURDAY in the first such event, PHS competed in the Greater Jersey Conference Relays at Elizabeth. The event has been set to give more experience to running teams which are now a part of the state meet, according to Ivan.

Princeton's time was 1:37.5, some three seconds behind the winner—and that's limping across the finish line," said Ivan. Solotorovsky first injured the ankle last week in a meet with Notchwood.

Mazzarella, a fast starter, leaped off for PHS, followed by Warren Appel and Greg John.

"They were real tough to raise its leg enough to get into shape now," commented Leete. He estimated that 40 schools participated.

As for Solotorovsky, Phipps took first place in the 230 and 440, Ivan reported ice was put on the ankle right away. "We're hoping he'll come along," he added. "If he doesn't, it'll hurt us."

PHS 85, Notre Dame 40

Earlier last week, PHS was its second in three defeats when it topped Notre Dame, 85-40.

Notre Dame has just put down new cinders and it was time to deep, half-burying the tumulus. It will like running in the Sahara Desert," quipped Ivan.

Mazzarella won both halves, with teammate Paul Ridell taking second both times.

Solotorovsky was the 220 and 440, and Harry Rosvel vaulted about 11 feet for the first time to win that event.

Lawrence Parker's toss of 162 feet won the javelin, "good distance for a sophomore," he served Ivan.

HUN TRACK CAPTAIN Jilian Solotorovsky has been a constant winner in the 100, 220 and 440 for the Little Tigers.

She set the school record in the 100 last year as a junior.

TENNIS TEAM WINS, 9-0

Title Tie Likely, Yale's tennis team will determine the week whether the Eastern Association championship is held among Princeton, Harvard or Cornell. The Elis were scheduled to play host to Princeton Wednesday and will face Harvard Saturday at Cambridge, site of the final match of the season.

The Tigers have defeated Penn, lost to Harvard, which, in turn, was beaten by Princeton. The Elis are 10-1, Princeton 9-2, Cornell 10-1.

PRINCETON TEAM WINS, 9-0

Next, the Little Tigers will play in makeup matches in as many days. Thursday, they will entertain Lawrence; Friday, they will host BML; and on Wednesday they are scheduled to play a makeup match at Trenton.

TWO REACH FINALS

In Springfield, Bob Menzel and Ed Conlin each won light matches Saturday in semi-final rounds of the President's Cup tournament at Springfield Golf Club.

FAVORED TEAMS WIN

In Business Softball League, with one exception, the opening round of games in the Business Softball League, which accrued to favor last week, the favored teams in each division came out on top. The upset was recorded by NCA, which knocked off RCA Labs A, last year's runner-up in the league championship, 10-7.

NCA, which finished 77-7 a year ago, put together as well as defense to gain its first triumph. Bones Gilbert was the winning pitcher.

In other western division games, RCA Astro began a strong note, defeating Dow Jones, 17-11. Gary Chinches and Jim Koenig, and Marty Vitz, three for four, to lead the winners. Rich Fields and Rick Miller homered. Dick Gillespie and Bob McCallum slammed four baggers for Dow Jones, the latter had a grand slam.

Barry Carroll drove in the winning run in the tenth inning against Hopewell TV, 11-10, wedged over Shell Chemical and a share of first place in the west. Al Anderson collected three hits and Alex Golombecki drove in four runs in a string of winning pitcher Bill Gabagan. Tom Blaney and Bill Watson each had three safeties for the beachers.

The league's newest entry, Firmenich, got off on the right foot with a 10-9 victory over Hopewell TV in the last western division contest. Ray Lutzner led his team mates with four hits, while Bob Pagana, Bob Elkins and Al Duffield, all had three apiece.

In the east, the favorite has been the team of Dick Dohmen and champion McGranahan. Dick led the way with a 20-3 trouncing of EMC. Tom Wood limited the losers to six hits, ending to his first victory. Tom and Mike Hubal, Angie Vasti and Mike Pappas had three hits apiece.

Veteran John Erzucker, as he has done so many times in the past, led Accelerator at the plate with three for four, including four RBIs and a three-run homer, as the eastern league newcomer ousted RCA Labs B, 18-12. Erick Bergstrom had two hits with two RBIs. Chuck Sontheimer batted two for two with four RBIs. Jim Krieger and Bill Procaccini both had four baggers for RCA.

Bob Oehle pitched and battehd for Accelerator to 10-9 win over PTS. The same number he gave up to opposing batters. Joe Morales also had four hits for the winners.

PRACTICING FOR SATURDAY'S PERFORMANCE: Miss Lori Ladd, pony "Mendie Mouse" through a practice session in preparation for the New Jersey Farm Dressage Show this Saturday. The show, beginning at 9 a.m., has 30 entries in all classes including those of Olympic grade. Lunch will be available on the show grounds on Cherry Hill Road. (Photo by Richard Silverman)

Out of action last year with a back ailment, Dick Dohmen got the First National Bank realigned batting order in check this time around, smashing three hits and coming up with a spectacular catch in the outfield to end the game. The bankers' bats warmed up by beating the hapless Lions, 12-6, and then annihilated 15-3. David Schwabach had a home run and Walt Bullock, a two run triple for FMC.

WINDS LIMIT RACING

SUNDAY'S ACTION: Strong gusts blew Sunday afternoon during the program of the Carnegie Sailing Club, one of the 14-foot sloops capsizing and another swamping.

On the second other ten in the fleet, completed, Tom Huntington, with Sarah Sheahan as crew was the winner, finishing ahead of Jim Costas, struck out 11 winning batters.

Jack Romeril placed first among six boats competing in the Sunfish class. Dan Mazarella was second and Roland Smith third.

The Carnegie Club will play host to the Eastern Seaboard GP-44 Fleets on Saturday. Twenty-five boats were entered a year ago and the number this weekend may be higher.

ELLEWORTH LEADER

In West Windsor League, running up 34 runs in two games, Elmwood A.C. gave some indication they may well be the team to beat in the West Windsor Little League. The pair of triumphs gave Elmwood a 41 mark at the half, the best record sole possession of first place.

Blasting out 19 hits, while allowing opposing batters only one, Elmwood clobbered Elmwood B.C. 18-1. Jim Tantum combined to hurl the shutout, and Jim Ceszowski, Steve Mays and Jim Howard led the offense hitting at the plate. Since Elmwood reached base four times scoring on three occasions.

Against the Lions Club, Elmwood was "held" to 15 runs, but the Lions could manage only seven. Marty Tantum boosted by his mate's scoring in every frame, picked up his fifth win and was touched for a grand slam by opposing pitcher Jim Mellor.

That's all, folks.

One thing you don't get when you buy a new Volkswagen:

Confused.

Because all you get to choose from are six different Volkswagens. Instead of 30 or 40 look-alike models some other car makers make.

So it's easier to pick out a VW.

And for more driving. You don't have to worry about your VW going out of style next year. Or turning out to be last year's dud cleverly disguised as this year's stud.

Those six VWs are the very same ones we've been making (and improving) for years.

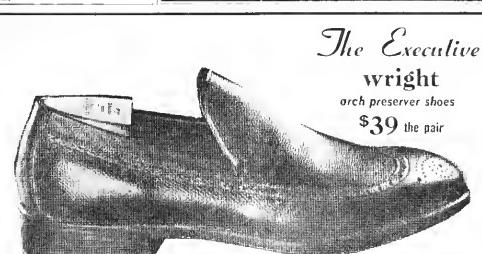

Starting with our little car, the VW Beetle. And our sports car, the VW Karmann Ghia. And our luxury car, the VW Fastback. And our big car, the VW Squareback.

And our great big car, the VW Station Wagon.

And our chuck wagon, the VW Camperobile.

And that's all, folks.

TV Baseball 30 Years Old

Sports fans in this area who can often twist their channel selectors and find three or four baseball games on television simultaneously will observe without noticeable celebration the 30th anniversary of such armchair sport on Saturday.

Not only the first baseball game but the first televised athletic event in history was broadcast from Princeton meeting at the Lions' Baker Field on May 17, 1939. It is not known how many viewers there were, but they were few because there were only 400 TV sets in use, the screen size ranged from five to 12 inches and sets cost upwards of $600.

After the success of the game over its experimental station W2XBS with Bill Stern handling the commentary, for the second broadcast took both ends of a double-header, winning the televisionized game, 2 to 1.

Also, Mrs. Samuel Monroe, Mrs. Jerome P. Webster, Mrs. Pepper Constable, Mrs. Ellie Benjamin, Mrs. Pieter Fisher, Mrs. C. Galick, and Mrs. Francis Austin.

BOWLING NOTES

Antlers vs. Wes Ballard. Antlers has won its runoff with Nassau & Wright Store for the championship of the A League. Nassau & Wright finished in the second place, with the final game, 934 pins, to 921. However, Antlers came back last week to win the next two and the crown, 897 to 881 and 911 to 902.

For Antlers, Dick Fowler rolled 235 188 176 in the three games. Wes Cowley had 171 237 186, while Al Hicks rolled 211 186 182. Other team members are Mike Pindell, best game 193, and Frank Cayley, best game 189.

In the consolation game, Fred MacLean rolled a 245 but it wasn't enough as none of his teammates could get above 188 in the final game. Eddie Baker, 188, Tom Baker 189 173, and Jim Pruska unrolled 192 181 188. Other team members are Ken White, best game 183, and Jerry Perpetua, best game 189.

In the only other men's league still in action, Prince Ion Aviation did last week what it failed to do the week before, coming round on First Ave. The leaders in the A League.

First Aid failed to gain a single point while Princeton Aviation was picking up six to close within one 44-43. Stu very much in the suddenly gained rare are Tiger Garage with 60, Grover Lumber with 60, and Kingston Wine and Liquor with 50.

Tigertail, a division of Kingston Wine and Liquor had the high single game of 226. Ernie Hunt, Tom Sceratati and Vince Turano, all of Grover Lumber, had 212. Others above 200 included Doug Renfroe, Sal DiMuro, Nick Stelerati, and Bill Whatley.

Claridge Liquor continues to lead the Business Women's League with a perfect 187 from University Cleaners (54), Thorne's (52) and University Inn (50) follow. University Cleaners' Doll Forsyth claimed the high single game of 186, one pin better than Carole Harris' 185. Carol rolls for Rocky Hill and Alpine Plaster of Clarendon rolled 173 183.

Others: Betty Klieber, 181; Julia Ball, 175; Betty Pirone, 172; Marilyn Murphy, 170; Myrtle Smith, 169; and Carole Lis, 162 168.

Mamel (56), Hornes of Merritt (48) and Mettler "B" (32).

The final week's high team game of 878 was fashioned by Irene's Day Nursery, while Swift's Diner had the high team series of 2400. Carol Osborn split the high single game of 203. Teammate Joan Ivins had a 179.

Three who were instrumental in pushing Ross's to the top are: Flo living, Betty Frazer, and Marlene Shire, with 181, 178 and 163 respectively. Others: Evelyn Sailey of Rocky & Sons, 185; Barbara Stout of Swift's Diner and Pat Large, both of Cranbury Bank, 178 and 176.

Carol Osborn converted the 5-9-10 split. Marilyn Hunek rolled a triplete 87.

Cut yourself a piece of apple pie!

Nobody gives you your income. You earn it! Naturally, you can't keep all of it, but you should at least take the first juicy slice of your money-pie for yourself.

Before you spend a single penny, put aside your share. But put it where it will work for you... in a Princeton Bank Savings Account.

Then watch your income grow! Earned interest turns your dollars into substantial sums, if you continue the habit of saving on a regular basis.

The sooner you start, the faster your money-pie will get bigger and juicier. Bon Appetit!

WE HAVE BEEN DISCOVERED....

and now there's no stopping us!

We are brimming with beautiful fabrics, shower curtains, coordinated bathroom accessories, and to finish it all off — a wide selection of fringes, tassels and pleater tapes.

The teenagers have discovered us too, and are using our prints to make summer shifts and bell bottoms.

Plan to visit us soon, and see our collection of first quality merchandise, at substantially less than retail prices.

WONDERFUL . . . what a way to live — your own big, cool swimming pool, on your own two acres in the country, with fine trees and shrubs, and lawn spreading in all directions! The house is charming — foyer, large living room, dining area, kitchen with many built-ins, study, and 3 bedrooms, 2 baths. Not such a large house, to be sure, but the whole property is designed to be a place where you, and your friends, can enjoy life. (*) $45,000

4 BEDROOMS . . . on a large lot in a group of fine homes only a few miles outside Princeton, this almost new Colonial was made two feet larger than its neighbors . . . with very worthwhile results! Slate-floored foyer, powder room, big living room with fireplace, separate dining room, Beautiful kitchen with extra-large wall oven and spacious breakfast area, large laundry, and family room off the kitchen with huge cupboards for toys, etc. Upstairs: 4 bedrooms, 2 baths and a vast walk-in closet. Wall-to-wall carpeting in living room, dining room, on stairs and hall (*) $46,000

TRULY RURAL . . . not far from the Delaware River, hidden in a cluster of great old shade trees right in the middle of a large working farm, this 200-year-old fieldstone farm house is already restored and modernized, and ready to move into. 4.9 acres of land, with fruit trees, too! The house has a spacious foyer, with a charming powder room to the left. To the right, a large living room with fireplace. The paneled library, too, has a fireplace. There is a very big dining room, and a large modern kitchen with ample breakfast space and a huge fireplace with a built-in grill where you can actually broil steaks. Second floor: 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. Third floor: 2 bedrooms, 1 bath, 3-car garage. Outdoors: nice shrubbery and a big swimming pool (*) $76,500

SPACIOUS & ELEGANT . . . on a country road, but only ten minutes from Princeton, this fine home was designed by a noted architect to be his own residence. All on one floor, with central air-conditioning, the wonderful floor plan makes this a great house for a large family (5 bedrooms, 3 baths, den & playroom), or an ideal retirement home (3 bedrooms, 2 baths study & sun room . . . plus living room, bedroom and bath over garage for income or visiting children), or an ingenious house for a young family (3 bedrooms, 2 baths, den & family room) plus a mother-in-law apartment over the garage. The property is almost 1½ acres in area, has a heated Sylvan swimming pool, a special wing for lawnmowers and garden tools, and wall-to-wall carpeting almost everywhere — including kitchen and bathrooms. (*) $85,000

LIVE IN YOUR OWN PARK . . . flowering shrubs, towering trees, smooth lawns — all these provide a setting for one of the finest homes we have ever had the pleasure of offering. And all Summer long, your family and your guests will enjoy the big swimming pool, which is far enough away from the house so that the decibels of childish clamor get lost in the great outdoors. The dwelling itself has a room on the ground level for the swimmers and a shower — plus a large paneled family room with a working bar. Upstairs, foyer, living room with fireplace, separate dining room with doors leading to a beautiful flagstone terrace, modern kitchen with eat-in facilities and a large screened porch which can be glass-enclosed and heated in the Winter. 5 bedrooms and 4 baths, plus a roughed-in 6th bedroom and bath. Ample storage attic. Big closets. Let us show you this lovely home in Edgewater . . . soon! $97,500

STUART HILL . . . Fabulous 2-acre building sites in the most desirable part of Princeton. This neighborhood appeals to people who dream of living in castles among lofty trees. All utilities installed.

(*) Many more fine homes in Princeton & vicinity in a wide price range. Ample parking space for our clients.
